AMERICA MUST COME FIRST IN THE MINDS OF ALL HER CITIZENS

Those of Foreign Birth Warned Not to Stand in the Way of the Nation's Purposes.

AMERICAN SPIRIT DEFINED

Wilson in Memorial Day Address at Arlington Calls Upon Young Men to Volunteer.

DEFENDS PEACE ALLIANCE

President Vigorously Applauded by Civil War Veterans.

Washington, May 30. — President Wilson delivered a Memorial Day address here today in which he defined the spirit of America, warned citizens of foreign birth not to set themselves against the purposes of the Nation, called upon young men to perform voluntary military service and defended his recent suggestion for an alliance of nations to preserve peace. He spoke at Arlington National Cemetery before an audience made up largely of Civil War veterans, who applauded him vigorously.

Champion Rights of Mankind.

While he declared he had no harshness in his heart for Americans of foreign birth, and expected them still to love the sources of their origin, the President said "America must come first in every purpose we entertain and every man must count upon being cast out of our confidence, cast out even of our tolerance, who does not submit to that great ruling principle."

Speaking of America, made up out of all the peoples of the world, as the champion of the rights of mankind, he said:

"We are not only ready to co-operate, but we are ready to fight against any aggression, whether from within or without. But we must guard ourselves against any sort of aggression which would be unworthy of America. We are ready to fight for our rights when those rights are coincident with the rights of man and humanity."

The President reiterated his suggestion before the League to Enforce Peace last week that the United States was ready to become a partner in any alliance of the nations which would guarantee public right against selfish aggression." Of published criticisms reminding him that George Washington warned the nation against "entangling alliances," he said:

For Disentangling Alliance.

"I shall never myself consent to an entangling alliance, but would gladly assent to a disentangling alliance, an alliance which would disentangle the peoples of the world from those combinations in which they seek their own separate and private interests, and unite the people of the world to preserve the peace of the world upon a basis of common right and justice."

Universal training and preparedness were possible, Mr. Wilson declared, only if the men of suitable strength and age will volunteer. He said, the "acid test" was about to be applied to business men to see whether they would allow their employes to volunteer. He said the army reorganization bill now before him bristled with that interrogation point, which he warned all the business of the country was staring him in the face.

The President said he was "universal voluntary training," but that "America does not wish anything but the compulsion of the spirit of America." He added that the people of the nation were watching each other, and that a great many men, even when they did not want to, were going to stand up and say "Here."

An Age That is Past.

"Whenever I seek to interpret the spirit of an occasion like this, I am led to reflect upon the seas of memory. We are here today to recall a period of our history which in one sense is so remote that we no longer seem to keep the vital threads of it in our consciousness, and yet is so near that men who played heroic parts in it, are still living, are still about us, are still here to receive the home of our respect and our honor. They belong to an age which is past, to a period the vital questions of which no longer vex the nation, to a period of which it may be said that certain things which had been questionable in the affairs of the United States were once for all settled, disposed of, put behind us and in the course of time have almost been forgotten.

"It was a singularly complete work that was performed by the processes of blood and iron at the time of the Civil War, and it is singular how the settlement has ruled our spirits since it was made. I see in this very audience men who fought in the Confederate ranks. I see them taking part in these exercises in the same spirit of sincere patriotism that moves those who fought on the side of the Union and I reflect how singular and how handsome a thing it is that wounds such as then were opened should be so completely healed and that the spirit of America should so prevail over the spirit of division. It is the all-prevailing and triumphant spirit of America where by our common action and consent governments are set up and pulled down, where affairs are ruled by common counsel and where by

ORGANIZATION TO BOOST ROOSEVELT

Business Men in Every State to Try to Induce Delegates to Support His Nomination.

CONTESTS GET ATTENTION

Managers of the Various Presidential Candidates Much Interested in Hearing of Disputes Between Southern Delegates.

Chicago, May 30.—Completion of an organization of business men in every state in the Union pledges to use their influence to induce delegates to the Republican National Convention to vote for Theodore Roosevelt as the party's nominee for President, was announced today by Herbert L. Satterlee, acting manager of the Chicago Roosevelt headquarters. J. Ogden Armour is head of the Roosevelt business men's organization in Illinois. The organization of the entire country by states was begun in New York eight days ago and is a purely volunteer movement, Mr. Satterlee explained.

It is expected the business men will render effective aid in Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, Iowa, Wisconsin and other states which have "favorite" sons candidates for President in influencing delegates to support Roosevelt as a second choice in the convention.

Managers of the Hughes, Roosevelt, Fairbanks, Weeks and Root campaigns have turned their attention to the contests over delegates which will be heard by the Republican National committee beginnmg June 1.

There are 40 contests involving the seats of 62 delegates.

In South Carolina where there are delegates involved in contests the fight is said to be between local leaders, and unimportant in the effect on the interests of the Presidential candidates.

There is one contest in the Richmond, Va., district, where D. A. Ferguson, a negro, is disputing with J. P. Brady. The charge is made that the negroes were barred from the convention hall. Both factions are said to favor Roosevelt.

The contest in the Tampa, Fla., district is said to be local and to involve one delegate who is uninstructed.

In Georgia the faction headed by Walter H. Johnson, state chairman, is disputing the title of the 17 delegates led by National Committeeman Henry S. Jackson to seats in the convention. A majority of the delegation led by the Jackson faction is claimed by Weeks, while a majority of the other faction is said to favor Hughes.

In Alabama, seven of the delegates representing the regular organization, headed by National Committeemen P. D. Parker and State Chairman Pope M. Long, are being contested by Dr. U. G. Mason, a negro, of Birmingham. Both delegates are said to be uninstructed, but the regulars are said to be divided between Hughes, Weeks, Root and Fairbanks, while the other faction is said to be favorable to Roosevelt.

The contest in Mississippi is confined to one district where two negro leaders are fighting for recognition. Both are reported to favor Roosevelt.

In Missouri there is a contest in the 11th district over two delegates but reports are that the dispute may be amicably settled before the National committee meets.

The fight between James A. Harris and James J. McGraw over the national committeeship is said to be responsible for the contest filed in the fifth and sixth districts of Oklahoma. It is reported that Harris is for Roosevelt and McGraw is favorable to Hughes.

Sergeant-at-Arms William F. Stone, of Baltimore, today completed the organization of his staff by appointing 1,500 assistant sergeant-at-arms, 100 door keepers, 100 ushers, 100 pages and 100 messengers.

FINAL ARRANGEMENTS FOR PROGRESSIVE CONVENTION

Chicago, May 30.—Final arrangements for the Progressive National convention to be held June 7 were completed today. There will be 1,068 delegates and more than 750 alternates according to George F. Porter, chairman of the committee on arrangements. The entire main floor of the convention hall will be given over to delegates seats and alternates will be obliged to sit in one of the balconies.

FOUR PERSONS KILLED WHILE WATCHING PARADE IN DALLAS

Eighteen Hurt When Wooden Awning Over Sidewalk Collapses.

Dallas, Texas, May 30.—Four persons were killed and 18 injured late this afternoon when the wooden awning over the sidewalk of a building on Min street collapsed. The killed and injured were part of a throng watching a preparedness parade.

The crowd watching the parade had surged forward at the approach of a band. Persons standing on the awning which was suspended by chains over the sidewalk, crowded near the edge and under the increased weight the structure fell ,taking with it a ton of bricks torn from the wall behind, on the crowd on the sidewalk.

INCREASE NUMBER SUBMARINES TO 50

Republicans Succeed in Getting One Amendment to Naval Appropriation Bill Through.

HOUSE TAKES NO HOLIDAY

Proposals For Six Battle Cruisers and Two Dreadnoughts Fail—Will Make Other Efforts For the Dreadnoughts

Washington, May 30.—Determined efforts to enlarge the building programme of the Naval Appropriation bill, as reported from the Naval committee, resulted today in the adoption by the House sitting as a committee of the whole, of an amendment increasing the number of submarines from 20 to 50. Proposals to provide for six battle cruisers instead of five and to add two dreadnaughts and two scout cruisers to the programme were defeated after a lively fight.

In order to finish consideration of the bill by the time fixed, 4 o'clock Friday afternoon, the House had a three hour session today instead of recessing over Memorial Day as usual.

So decisive were the votes against additional battle and scout cruisers, that the bigger navy advocates virtually have decided to abandon the fight for them, but they still hope to get the two battleships. Another attempt will be made when the House returns to regular form on Friday.

Lost By Narrow Margin

The battleship proposal was lost by the narrow margin of 16 votes, 130 opposing and 114 favoring. Fourteen Democrats voted for the amendment and eight Republicans opposed it. Democrats supporting it were Linthicum, Coady and Price, Maryland; McAndrews, McDermott, Stone and Gallagher, Illinois; Lazaro and Dupre, Louisiana; O'Shaughnessy, Rhodelsland; Sherley, Kentucky; Tague, Massachusetts, and Farley and Driscoll, New York.

Republicans voting in the negative were Mondell, Wyoming; Nelson, Wisconsin; Cramton, Michigan; Good, Green, Haughen and Ramseyer, Iowa, and Ellsworth, Minnesota.

The vote on increasing the submarines was 113 to 104, seventeen Democrats voting for and no Republicans opposing. The additional undersea boats would be of the coast defense type, 17 of which already were provided for by the bill. Many members who have been urging that it would be better to expend money on submarines than on battleships, rallied to the support of the amendment after voting against the battleship proposal.

No Increase in Battle Cruisers.

A vote of 109 to 83 defeated the proposal to construct six battle cruisers instead of five and the viva voce vote against the proposal to increase the number of scout cruisers from four to six was so overwhelming that a roll call was not sought.

In opposing the proposed increase of battle cruisers, Chairman Padgett, of the Naval committee, insisted that the Republicans originally planned to demand five such craft, but upon learning that the majority report would recommend this number they decided to insist upon six. Closing of debate at that point prevented an answer from

PROF. W. C. RIDDICK TO HEAD A. & M. COLLEGE

Elected President After 24 Years' Service as Professor.

Succeeds Dr. D. H. Hill, Resigned, and is Succeeded by Dr. W. A. Withers as Vice-President—Effective July 1.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Raleigh, N. C., May 30.—W. C. Riddick is the new president of the North Carolina College of Agriculture and Mechanics Arts, succeeding Dr. D. H. Hill, who retires after eight years of the presidency to write the history of North Carolina's part in the Confederacy for the North Carolina division Confederate Veterans, under a special commission from the State Historical Commission.

Prof. Riddick was elected after morning and afternoon sessions of the board of trustees that sandwiched the commencement exercises. At the same time Dr. W. A. Withers was made vice-president in the stead of Dr. Riddick.

Dr. Hill's term as president closes July 1 and the terms of the new officers begin at that time.

Prof. Riddick ,who has been at the head of the department of civil engineering of the college for 24 years, is 52 years old and is a native of Wake county. He was educated at Washington and Lee and the University of North Carolina.

Dr. Withers, the new vice-president, has been with the college as professor of chemistry for the past 26 years.

Diplomas Given Ninety.

Graduating exercises for the 90 graduates and a big alumni luncheon thereafter brought to a close the commencement exercises of the A. & M. College today, except for a final meeting of the trustees in the afternoon for election of president.

There were four orations by honor

COL. J. S. MOSBY HAS PASSED AWAY

Famous Confederate Raider Died Yesterday in Washington at the Age of 82 Years.

CAUSES SADNESS TO MANY

He Was Noted for Many Brilliant Exploits Against the Yankees During the Civil War—Brief History of His Life.

Washington, May 30. — Col. John S. Mosby, famous Confederate raider of the Civil War, died at a hospital here early today at the age of 82 years. Death was due to old age. He will be buried at his old home, Warrenton, Va., at 9 o'clock, Thursday morning, and survivors of his band that made vivid civil war history will be pall bearers.

Colonel Mosby had been in poor health about six months. Three weeks ago he was removed to a hospital when it was apparent that his condition was serious. He was conscious until within an hour of his death, and at all times took a keen interest in political and national questions. Many members of his old command visited him during his illness.

The passing of the famous Confederate commander on Memorial Day was a sad feature of the holiday here. He had lived in Washington for many years, having at one time been employed by the Department of Justice. He was a writer of some note, contributing articles dealing with the Civil War, and personal reminiscences to newspapers and magazines.

Colonel Mosby was a picturesque figure in the capital, and up to a few months ago he walked daily through the down town section of the city. Age had not bent his erect figure nor dimmed his eye, and it was seldom that he passed through the crowded streets that he was not recognized.

It was related of him that he attended but one reunion, that of "Mosby's Men," at Alexandria, Va., 23 years ago. He was so affected, it is said, that he never desired to go to another.

He is survived by three daughters, two sons and two sisters.

Colonel Mosby dared death over fifty years ago when, at the head of a band of a few hundred Confederate raiders, he rode up and down the Shenandoah valley, capturing outposts, destroying supply trains, and cutting off means of communication. It has been estimated that he often neutralized the force of over 15,000 Federals in the Valley.

Born in Powhattan county, Va., December 6, 1833, and graduated from the University of Virginia in 1852, he was practising law in Britsol, Va., when the war broke out, and he began his career in the Confederate army. He proved his daring with such effect that he became a scout for Gen. J. E. B. Stuart, and led the celebrated raid around McClellan's army on the Chickahominy. In Richmond a year later he recruited an independent cavalry troop which became famous as Mosby's Partisan Rangers. They became night riders, and the terror of the Federal troops.

Mosby's most brilliant exploit was the capture of Gen. Stoughton. On a March night in 1863 he, with 30 followers, rode through the Federal army to Fairfax Court House, only 15 miles from Washington, where Gen. Stoughton was asleep. Although surrounded by an army said to have been 17,000 strong, the rangers calmly kidnapped the general, his staff and many sentries, and turned them over to the Confederate authorities at Culpeper, without having lost a man.

General Grant once later saved Mosby from hanging, and two foes of the battlefield became staunch friends.

Mosby stumped the state of Virginia for Grant during his Presidential campaign, and was rewarded with an appointment as consul at Hong Kong, a post which he held for seven years.

When he returned to the United States, Mosby called on the surviving members of his rangers, and, to his astonishment, he found that a large percentage of them had become ministers. In parting their old colonel said:

"Well, boys, if you fight the devil like you fought the yankees, there will be something to record on Judgment Day."

CRITICISES POLICY TOWARDS MEXICO AND PHILIPPINES

Former President Taft Urges Greater Navy and Army.

Washington, Pa., May 30. — Former President Taft, speaking at Washington and Jefferson College here today, criticised the foreign policy of the present administration towards Mexico and the Philippines, advocated a navy which would at least be equal to that of Germany, and an army reserve that would bring out an effective fighting force up to half a million men. Regarding Mexico, he said:

"Mexico has become an international nuisance; but there is no use to croy over that spilt milk. We have really intervened two or three times. If we had left the Mexicans to work out their own salvation entirely, it could not be a worse job. I do not want to intervene. I know too much of the cost."

WOMEN YESTERDAY HAD BUSY SESSION

Address by Governor Whitman and Report of the Nominating Committee Heard.

VOTING WILL BEGIN TODAY

Four Amendments to By-Laws Adopted—Dozen Speakers Made Addresses Before Conference of Health Committee.

New York, May 30.—Delegates, alternates and visitors attending the 13th biennial convention of the General Federation of Women's Club in this city observed Memorial Day by holding one of the busiest sessions of the convention.

The nominating committee reported the official slate after an address by Governor Whitman. As was predicted, Mrs. Josiah Evans Cowles, of Los Angeles, and Mrs. Samuel B. Sneath, of Tiffin, Ohio, were the only candidates for the presidency. There also are to be contests for recording secretary, for treasurer and for auditor.

The balloting will begin tomorrow morning and continue throughout the dya. The results are to be announced Thursday.

Four amendments to the by-laws adopted today provide that clubs dropped from membership can be reinstated after the lapse of two years by payment of a membership renewal fee of $2; that the outgoing treasurer shall, within one month of the close of the biennial session, turn over to the new treasurer all money and documents in her possession with a sworn report; that the newly elected members of the board of directors shall perform the duties assigned them by the officers of the board; and that the legitimate expenses of department and committee members in the service of the Federation be paaid.

At the conference of the public health committee this afternoon a dozen speakers of national prominence agreed that the Federation was a potent factor in improving the health of the nation.

Speaking on "Woman's Duty in the Anti-Tuberculosis Crusade," Dr. Adolphus Knopen, professor of medicine at the Post Graduate Hospital, said:

"It is women's duty to combat tuberculosis. She knows that we are still losing annually well nigh 200,000 people from the disease in the United States, and that tuberculosis has been declared again and again by the highest medical authorities to be preventable and curable."

Mrs. J. Borden Harriman, the principal speaker at the conference of the legislative committee, declared that strife between capital and labor will continue until their differences are disposed of by a permanent industrial commission.

$238,000 HAS BEEN RAISED.

$300,000 Fund for University of the South Not Yet Complete.

Chattanooga, Tenn., May 30. — Bishop Knight, vice-chancellor of the University of the South, stated tonight that the fund for the payment of the $300,000 debt of the University of the South at Sewanee was now $238,000, and a number of dioceses had not been heard from. It had been hoped to raise the required fund by June 1. The committee in charge of raising the fund will meet next week at Sewanee during the commencement exercises.

CITY TO PAY TRIBUTE TO LATE JAMES J. HILL

Business to be Suspended Five Minutes Today in St. Paul.

All Trains on Great Northern and Burlington Systems to Stand Still—Over 5,000 Persons View Body of Dead Man

St. Paul, Minn., May 30.—Beginning at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon and continuing for five minutes there will be a complete cessation of business in St. Paul as a city's tribute of respect to the late James J. Hill, whose funeral will begin at that time. Scores of other cities and towns throughout the Northwest also will honor the memory of the railroad builder. All trains in the Great Northern and Burlington railroad systems, of which Mr. Hill was the recognized head, will stand still for five minutes.

The body will lay in state today in the big drawing room of the Hill mansion on Summit avenue while more than five thousand persons filed past the casket. These included a large number of employees of the Great Northern railroad, many of whom wore the well known bronze insignia of the association as ""Veterans of the Great Northern Railroad."

One of the persons to visit the bier of the "Empire Builder" as Mr. Hill frequently was designated, was J. H. Grudeer, operating president of the Great Northern railroad. Beside him came Harry S. Kiltner, section hand. They never had met but they both knew "Jim" Hill and both were led sobbing from the room.

Another man who filed past the casket in the drawing room was Henry Sinwers, who joined the service under Mr. Hill 55 years ago and is now a foreman in the shops here.

"The best friend I ever had," Sinkers sobbed and dashed the tears out of his face with a piece of gnarled closed hand.

GERMAN FORCES TAKE FRENCH POSITIONS ON FRONT OF TWO MILES

WILSON PROCLAIMS JUNE 14 'FLAG DAY'

Urges Patriotic Exercises Giving Expression "To Our Thoughtful Love of America"

TO RE-DEDICATE OURSELVES

"For An America Which No Man Can Corrupt, No Influence Draw Away From Its Ideals, No Force Divide Against Itself."

Washington, May 30—President Wilson today issued a proclamation calling upon the United States to celebrate Flag Day, June 14, with patriotic exercises giving expression "to our thoughtful love of America." The President declared that the people should re-dedicate themselves "for an America which no man can corrupt, no influence draw away from its ideals, no force divide against itself." The proclamation follows:

"My Fellow Countrymen:—Many circumstances have recently conspired to turn our thoughts to a critical examination of the conditions of our national life, of the influences which have seemed to threaten to divide us in interest and sympathy, of forces within and without that seemed likely to draw us away from the happy traditions of united purpose and action of which we hvae been so proud.

"It has, therefore, seemed to me fitting that I should call your attention to the approach of the anniversary of the day upon which the flag of the United States was adopted by the Congress as the emblem of the Union and to suggest to you that it should this year and in the years to come be given special significance as a day of renewal and remindar, a day upon which we should direct our minds with a special desire of renewal to thought of the ideals and principles of which we have sought to make our great government the embodiment.

"I, therefore, suggest and request that throughout the nation and if possible in every community, the 14th day of June be observed as flag day with special patriotic exercises, at which means shall be taken to give significant expression to our thoughtful love of America, our comprehension of the great mission of liberty and justice to which we have devoted ourselves as a people, our pride in the history and our enthusiasm for the political programme of the nation, our determination to make it greater and purer with each generation and our resolution to demonstrate to all the world its vital union in sentiment and purpose, accepting only those as true compatriots who feel as we do the compulsion of this supreme allegiance.

"Let us on that day re-dedicate ourselves to the nation, 'one and inseparable' from which every thought that is not worthy to our fathers' first vows of independence, liberty and right shall be excluded and in which we shall stand with united hearts for an America which no man can corrupt, no influence draw away from its ideals, no force divide against itself, a nation signally distinguished among all the nations of mankind for its clear, individual conception alike of its duties and its privileges, its obligations and its rights."

INNES IDENTIFIED HIS WIFE BY ANOTHER NAME IN ATLANTA

L. E. Weathers, Real Estate Man, Tells of Alleged Larceny.

Atlanta, Ga., May 30—Testimony that Victor E. Innes came to Atlanta in April, 1914, to confer with Mrs. Eloise Nelms Dennis, regarding purchases of property in the Northwest and that he identified his wife here as "Mrs. Mary Hardeman," was given here today by L. E. Weathers, a local real estate man at the trial of Innes for larceny after trust. Nearly $4,000 belonging to Mrs. Dennis is said to have disappeared about the time she and her sister, Beatrice Nelms, were last seen in San Antonio, Texas, in June, 1914.

Mrs. Dennis, according to the testimony, at one time sent Innes $3,000 presumably as payment on real estate he was to buy for her in Montana and Sonora, Mexico.

Weathers also testified that Innes wrote letters to Mrs. Dennis and referred in "general terms to love" for her, mentioning "their going away and getting settled in their new home," and also wrote of a new religious creed which Weathers declared Innes led Mrs. Dennis to expect they would establish. Mr. and Mrs. Ennis were acquitted in San Antonio of charges of having murdered the two Atlanta women, and after lengthy argument today Judge Hill, presiding, ruled that the prosecution could not introduce evidence regarding the alleged murder.

BREAK EXPORTING RECORDS.

Norfolk Last Night Had Shipped $6,641,140 Worth of Goods in May.

Norfolk, Va., May 30.—Customs officials tonight announced exports approximating $5,000,000, and that all Norfolk records will be broken for 30 days during the month of May. The total tonight is $6,641,140, with several manifests of cargoes to be received tomorrow and two other ships expected to clear during the day. Nearly all outgoing goods were for Allied ports and consisted mainly of foodstuffs and war supplies. The largest cargo was valued at $318,000 on the steamer Nebraskan.

Tentons Press Forward in Le Mort Homme Region and Also in the Thiaumont Wood.

MANY PRISONERS CAPTURED

Austrians Begin Another Offensive Against Italians in Two Separate Regions.

RUSSIANS HOLD POSITIONS

Germans Aiding Bulgarians in the Advance Into Greece.

French positions on a front of approximately two miles, extending from the southern ridge of Le Mort Homme to the Cumieres village, northwest of Verdun, have been captured by the Germans, according to the latest official communication from Berlin. In addition, the Teutons again have pressed forward in the Thiaumont wood northeast of Verdun, and added to their line in the eastern part of it.

These gains, made during the vicious fighting of Monday, have been in part admitted by Paris, which has reported the loss of three hundred meters of advanced trenches northwest of Cumieres, and the retirement from similar positions to the south of the road between Bethincourt and Cumieres. Berlin says the Germans captured 1,313 prisoners, including several staff officers.

No Infantry Attacks

Around LeMort Homme and Cumieres a violent bombardment is still in progress but there has been a diminution in the intensity of the fire of the big guns northeast of Verdun. Since the fighting of Monday there apparently have been no infantry attacks anywhere on either side of the Meuse.

The Austrians have begun another attack against the Italians in the Posina region of Italy, southwest of Posina, and farther north along the upreaches of the Astico river on the Austro-Italian border. South of Posina, Austrians prepared for their offensive with a bombardment, but according to Rome the Italians, after a desperate struggle against the Austrian infantry, retained their positions. In the La-Garina valley on the Pasubio sector and in the Sugaua valley at Ospedaletto, the Austrians are heavily bombarding the Italian positions.

Russians Retain Positions

On the Russian front, the Germans assayed an offensive northeast of Augustinhof, but were driven back to their trenches by the Russians. The Austrians in Galicia met with a momentary success near Gliadki, driving the Russians from a position and capturing it. The Russians, however, in a counter attack recaptured the post. Near Boutcache the Austrians began an offensive, but it was put down by the Russian fire.

On their front on Asiatic Turkey the Russians report the situation unchanged. Constantinople says that near Fehahe, in the Kut-el-Amara region, the Turks silenced two British guns and took prisoners in a surprise attack.

Germans With Bulgarians

The Germans are with the Bulgarians in the advance into Greek Macedonia. The invasion, according to Berlin, was made as a protection against surprise attack which the entente allies were planning.

The total subscriptions to the recent Austro-Hungarian war loan are said to have reached six billion crowns. Germany is soon going to ask for a war credit of twelve billion marks, according to a Berlin newspaper.

ATTENDS PLAY IN BALTIMORE

President Wilson Given Enthusiastic Applause—Greets Actors

Baltimore, May 30.—President Wilson tonight attended a theatrical performance here given by the Friars Club of New York. His appearance was the signal for enthusiastic applause which was continued as the actors made jokes at his expense. Songs praising Mr. Wilson were warmly received. "We're With Mr. Wilson," sang the chorus as he smiled and bowed.

The President later went behind the scenes and made a short speech to the assembled actors and shook hands with all. The ovation was repeated when he departed.

M'ADOO DELIVERS ADDRESS AT THE UNIVERSITY TODAY

Secretary of the Treasury Will Also Speak in Raleigh Tonight

Raleigh, N. C., May 30.—Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo is in Chapel Hill tonight where tomorrow he will deliver the commencement address at the University of North Carolina. Tomorrow night he will deliver an address here before the Chamber of Commerce, another speaker to be Dean Talcott Williams, of the Pulitzer School of Journalism.

ROOSEVELT MAKES SEVERAL SPEECHES

Urges Preparedness, and Declares for Universal Military Training, at Kansas City.

SAYS WEST IS INTERESTED

Speaks Principally to Old Soldiers in His Main Address—Pocket Knife Thrown at the Colonel's Automobile

Kansas City, Mo., May 30.—Colonel Roosevelt urged preparedness and declared vigorously for universal training, based on universal service, in several speeches made here today. He warned his audience that there was peril in pacificism to all classes.

The former President departed from his set speech at Convention Hall long enough to say a facetious word about Mexico, but in his other address he dwelt steadily on national defense. His first message was to a group of children that had gathered to greet him. It was "Prepare." A few minutes later he repeated the sentiment to a street crowd from the lobby of his hotel. At noon as a guest of the Commercial Club at luncheon, he sounded another appeal.

"It has been said," he declared, "that the West is not interested because it would not suffer from war. I know that this is a lie. I would shrink as from a plague from an American who would say that he does not care what happens to another American."

There were several untoward incidents during Mr. Roosevelt's visit. A pocketknife was thrown at Colonel Roosevelt's motor car during the Memorial Day parade and it struck the arm of John W. McGrath, the former President's secretary, and fell to the running board of the car. McGrath tonight said there was no force behind the knife and he believed some one had tossed it toward the car as a joke. Colonel Roosevelt tonight characterized the matter as an "entirely trivial incident" and thought no weight should be attached to it.

Another incident was the arrest in the lobby of the Hotel Muehlbach of a man who said his name was Edward McDaniel, and his home was at Tulsa, Okla. He declared he had business with Colonel Roosevelt, and tried to force his way past the police. The police were still holding the man tonight, but no charges had been placed against him.

Convention Hall was filled with a cheering crowd, waving small flags when the Colonel entered. A portion of the hall had been reserved for Civil War veterans and it was principally to them that Colonel Roosevelt directed his remarks.

"Peace" Along Border

"We are told that we enjoy peace with Mexico," he said, in speaking of the republic to the south. "Eighteen years ago, we had a war with Spain. The number of Americans killed in Mexico during this peace with Mexico surpassed the number killed by Spain in the war with Spain, and when this war was through it was through, whereas peace continues to rage with unabated violence along the Mexican border."

Coming to the question of an invasion of American shores by foreign forces, he declared that if an army half the size of that which attacked the Dardanells, should invade this country, America would be at its mercy.

"If such an invasion took place," said he, "against it, we would pit an army of ill-trained men, an army of about one-third the size of the invading army, untrained, badly armed and without the necessary artillery and we would send the young sons of America to be butchered, to make good for the fact that we had not trained in advance.

Calls on Mr. Hadley

After his convention hall address, Col. Roosevelt motored to the home of Herbert S. Hadley, former governor, for a visit. Mr. Hadley was too ill to take his place on the reception committee and Colonel Roosevelt insisted on calling upon him. It was declared later that the call was purely social. Col. Roosevelt left tonight for St. Louis.

John McGrath, Colonel Roosevelt's secretary, announced tonight that he would go from St. Louis tomorrow night for Chicago where he would remain until after the Progressive and Republican convention. He reiterated that Colonel Roosevelt has no intention now of being in Chicago at that time.

After his address at St. Louis tomorrow the former President plans to return to Oyster Bay at once, stopping only at Newark, N. J., where he will speak Thursday at the 250th anniversary of the city's founding, according to announcement today.

PROTEST AGAINST BRITISH INTERFERENCE WITH TRADE

Tobacco Merchants' Association Closes First Annual Session

New York, May 30.—Resolutions protesting against the "unjust and unwarranted British interference with our lawful trade with Holland" were adopted at the closing session of the Tobacco Merchants Association's annual convention here today. The resolutions stated that the interference ahd resulted in great delay in the transmission of bills, bills of lading, price lists, and memoranda on purchases of Sumatra tobacco and otherwise injured the trade with The Netherlands. It was decided to lay the matter before the State Department.

Another resolution adopted protested the alleged restriction of American commerce by the British fleet "which in effect" has brought about dictation and supervision in our ports of shipments of strictly non-contraband character. The association went on record of strictly favoring the passage by Congress of an act legalizing the fixing and maintaining retail prices for proprietary or trade mark articles.

Officers elected were: Jacob Wertheim, president; George W. Hill, Edward Wiss, Jesse A. Bloch, Charles Fox and Asa Lemlein, vice-presidents; Leon Schinasi, treasurer; Charles Dushkind, secretary and counsel.

The next meeting will be held in Norfolk.

REUNION SPIRIT AT UNIVERSITY RAMPANT

General Carr Gives $4,000 to Establish a Fellowship.

More Than 600 Sat at Alumni Luncheon Which Was a Sort of "Gridiron Club" Affair—Senior Class Day—Debate

(Special Star Telegram.)

Chapel Hill, N. C., May 30.—Over six hundred people sat down this afternoon to one of the most elaborate and enjoyable alumni luncheons in the history of the University. The spirit of good fellowship permeated the atmosphere, while appetites were abundantly satisfied. Nor were those who came to be amused disappointed, for the luncheon was one big laugh from beginning to end—a kind of "gridiron" dinner, one might say.

Eleven black-faced performers spun jokes upon such celebrities as Josephus Daniels, Ed Graham, Collier Cobb and Archibald Henderson, while Greensboro and Charlotte engaged in controversies over the Mecklenburg Declaration. Mutt and Jeff were there in undimmed splendor, while Hank Ford was not left out.

The lusty one year old class of 1915 had rites suitable to the occasion. But 1911 refused to be shoved in the background, in fact this class held the attention of the audience throughout the luncheon with its band of fifty sailors, rending the air with yells and songs, and doing a war dance whenever enthusiasm lagged. Undergraduates sang popular airs, gave exhibitions of juggling and cracked jokes. Indeed the fun was so continuous that the usual after dinner speeches had to be eliminated.

The luncheon was over at four, then the married 1911's crossed bats with the unmarried to the humiliation of the latter.

Orchestral music filled all the pauses in a busy day, a happy day and a noteworthy day. The reunion spirit has everywhere been rampant.

At the luncheon President Graham announced a gift of $4,000 from Gen. Julian S. Carr, for a University fellowship to be given each year to some member of the junior class.

Inter-Society Debate.

The annual inter-society debate held here tonight was won by the Di society, represented by H. D. Sharpe and C. B. Hyatt. The Di men had the negative of the query: "Resolved, That all child labor legislation should be under Federal control, constitutionality granted." J. S. Stell and E. E. Duncan represented the affirmative and also the Phi society.

Hon. G. B. Patterson presided at the contest. The contest tonight also decides the winner of the Bingham prize in debate, the name of said winner to be announced Wednesday along with the recipients of other medals, prizes and fellowships.

After the debate President and Mrs. Graham gave a reception to the college at large and visitors in honor of the graduating class. The large floor of the gymnasium was packed with guests.

Senior Class Day.

The election of permanent class officers, oratory, faculty for collecting historical data, the compilation of class statistics, the foresight with which to prophesy the future, the reading of the last will and testament of 1916, and the consignment of the campus to the rising Senior Class—these varied activities each took their turn on Monday's programme of commencement exercises. 'Twas Senior Class Day and for the last time the outgoing members of 1916 dominated the campus, and then, as the sun sank out of sight behind the library, the Seniors, not without a choking sensation and perhaps a stifled tear or two, placed the mantle of authority upon the shoulders of the rising Seniors and adjured them to retain the high standard of ideals and principles as worked out and put in practice by the class of 1916.

Gowned in academic costume and clothed in the dignity and culture acquired from four years of training in a college atmosphere, the graduating class of 75 members assembled in Gerrard Hall at 9:30 Monday morning for the opening exercises of Senior Class Day. The processional march was made from the well to Gerrard Hall under the fatherly direction of "Pres" Kemp P. Battle. His benign countenance, unmarred by 82 years of storm and stress in service of State and University, was in itself a fitting inspiration to the outgoing class.

"Grand Old Man's" Counsel.

"If you want to succeed in life," counselled the "Grand Old Man," "whatever you profess to do, do well. The great word upon which success depends is reliability. Get the respect and confidence of your community and then you have reliability. Before going into any business, take careful thought of what you are going into and what shall be your ambition in such business. Keep this ever before you. And, in addition, keep a healthy body, for a healthy body is a happy body. Eat what agrees with you. Therefore, study your own constitution as carefully as you study your business."

Another class was thus given Godspeed counsel by this Grand Old Man, as in prayerful solicitation he communed with the class of 1916. Since 1845 Dr. Battle has been the personal witness of the various classes that have been trained and equipped in a college atmosphere and then ushered into a larger field of actfvity.

Following immediately upon the prayer service, the class named their permanent officers. Francis Bradshaw, of Hillsboro, who has guided the class through the events of the past year, was by an overwhelming vote chosen as permanent president; Hugh Hester, of Hester, N. C., was chosen secretary; and George Claiborne Royall, of Goldsboro, treasurer. The committee on permanent organization was William B. Umstead, of Bahama, chairman; Robert House, of Thelma, and Francis Clarkson, of Charlotte.

At this time the class voted against the one-year reunion and in favor of the five-year reunion.

Mangum Medal Contest.

The class then took an intermission of 15 minutes, only to reassemble in Gerrard Hall at 10:30 for the Mangum Medal Contest. Before the contest began, the gift of the Senior Class was presented by Samuel Pike, of Liberty, N. C. The gift is in the form of a 20-year insurance policy for $2,500. According to the plan as outlined by Mr. Pike three members of the class will be insured for that amount—probably the three youngest members. As figured out by the committee on a class gift, such a plan will cost each member of the class about $4 a year.

At 10:40 the Seniors turned the meeting over to President Graham, who presided at the Mangum Medal Contest. Each year that Senior displaying the best oratorical qualities is the recipient of this gift, donated by the late Misses Mangum, of Orange county. The prize is awarded in honor of their father, Wiley Person Mangum. The contestants and their subjects in Monday's sharp-witted rivalry were: William B. Umstead, of Bahama, "National Self-Consciousness in the United States"; Francis Clarkson, of Charlotte, "The Soul of Mexico"; and Samuel Pike, of Liberty, "America's Growth of Freedom". The name of the winner of the medal will be reserved for announcement on Wednesday.

At 5:30, under the old Davie Poplar, the closing exercises of the Senior Class were held. The exercises were conducted and presided over by the class president, Francis Bradshaw. The programme outlined the following events: Class History, by Sam Pike; Class Statistics, by W. B. Umstead; Class Prophecy, by W. Cecil Rymer; Last Will and Testament, by Thomas Linn; Class Poem, by Robert House.

MAKING A "BATHING NATION."

Baltimore Ahead of New York in Provision of Public Baths.

(From New York Sun.)

At the recent meeting of the American Association for Promoting Hygiene and Public Baths in Baltimore, one of the delegates from the borough of Manhattan was painfully compelled to acknowledge that New York is the only large city in the United States that does not bathe its school children because it is financially unable to do so. It appears that the city has constructed baths in all its more recent school buildings and added them to many of the older ones, so that it has at least 107 schools which are provided with facilities for bathing. Nevertheless, only one appropriation has been made for the maintenance of these baths—namely, for 1915.

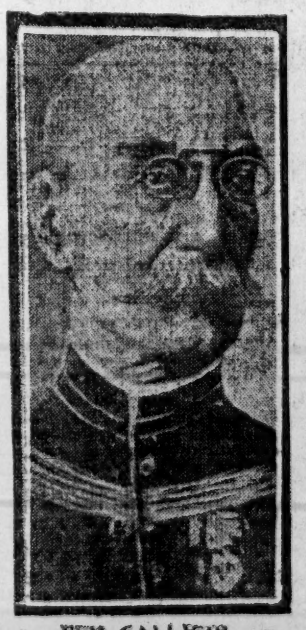
The following cities have for several years maintained school baths: Newton, Mass.; Holyoke, Mass.; Troy, N. Y.; Grand Rapids, Mich.; Worcester, Mass.; and Hoboken, N. J., each has one; Cambridge, Mass., and Kansas City, Mo., have two each; Richmond, Va., and Baltimore, Md., have three; Jersey City has four; Buffalo, St. Paul, Minn., and Albany, N. Y., each has five; Springfield, Mass., eight; Washington, D. C., 11; Pittsburg, Pa., 20; Minneapolis, Minn., 22; Cincinnati, O., 23; and Cleveland, O., 55.

During a discussion of school baths at the Baltimore meeting it was shown that reports from the principals of many New York schools confirm the reports of the principals of German schools that there is no agency that so much promotes not only the physical welfare of the children but also their mental alertness.

The fact was also brought out that the nations which have proved most efficient in history, the Romans and the Japanese, have been bathing nations. It was suggested that the efforts of the higher types of Germans have been directed during the last quarter of a century toward making Germany a bathing nation. It was stated that the Emperor and his ministers, also the army and navy, send delegates to the meetings of the German Society for People's Baths, which started with 1,300 members of the aristocracy, teachers, judges, lawyers, merchants, manufacturers, artists, engineers, architects, etc. The object of this association is to encourage bathing among its people by active propaganda, oral, written and printed. The school bath is regarded as the best method of propaganda in this direction. As a result there are more school baths and vastly more public baths in Germany than in any other country.

The president of the association expressed a hope that the United States would become a bathing nation, which he regards as the first step toward health, wealth, prosperity and efficiency in all phases of life.

"SAVIOR OF PARIS" DEAD.



GEN. GALLIENI

General Joseph Simeon Gallieni, "savior of Paris," former military governor of the French capital, then minister of war, and later head of the French aerial corps, died at Versailles, aged 67.

On August 27, 1914, when the German advance threatened Paris, General Gallieni was made military governor of the entrenched camp.

When General Maunoury assembled his new army to strike von Kluck's flank unawares Gallieni commandeered every motor taxicab in Paris, put into them 80,000 of his troops and threw them into Maunoury's corps, the existence of which was unknown to the Germans. The Sunday battle on the Marne followed; von Kluck was crushed and the retreat to the Aisne followed.

For that Gallieni was made minister of war. In February, 1916, he took over the direction of the department of aviation, but kidney trouble compelled him to retire on March 6.

I RECOMMEND IT TO WOMEN WHO SUFFER AS I DID

Says Delgado Lady of Tanlac--Now Does Housework With Ease and Eats and Sleeps Better.

"Tanlac has done more for me than all the other medicines put together," is the way Mrs. M. C. Fryar, of Delgado, summed up the work of the Master Medicine in her talk several days ago with the Tanlac Man.

"I suffered principally from severe pains in the stomach and found it hard to sleep and eat," Mrs. Fryar continued. "After eating only a little food I always would be attacked with pains around the heart. Instead of digesting properly the food would ferment and cause gas accumulations. Nervousness added to my troubles and I was in a general weakened condition when I followed the advice of friends and took Tanlac.

"I have just finished the third bottle; can do my housework with ease; feel like a different woman, and no longer suffer from those terrible pains and from bloating.

"I offer the highest praises to Tanlac and recommend it to any and all women who might be suffering as I was."

Daily, men and women call at the Bellamy Drug Store to personally thank the Tanlac Man for the good results they are deriving from the Master Medicine.

At this particular time of the year, most every man and woman is in need of a tonic and general system purifier to thin out the blood and ward against that sluggish feeling. As an appetizer, invigorant and general tonic Tanlac is said to be without an equal. It builds up nervous and run-down systems by banishing congested impurities and building health through the blood and nerves. Watson's Pharmacy sells it in Southport; and C. L. Halstead in Burgaw. There is a Tanlac druggist in every town.—adv.

Philadelphia, May 30.—After losing the morning's game 5 to 1, and having their winning streak of 17 straights broken, New York this afternoon turned the tables and defeated the home team 10 to 2. The visitors drove Alexander off the rubber in seven innings, while Anderson was successful in every inning except the fifth. Home runs were made by Merkle, Fletcher and Whitted.

During the afternoon's event, Umpire Harrison sent Manager Moran, Killifer and E. Burns off the field for objecting to his decisions on balls and strikes and Paskert was banished for hitting the umpire's whisk broom with his bat. Spectators threw pop bottles and cushions at Harrison and at the close of the game the umpire was escorted off the field by policemen.

Brooklyn, May 30.—Brooklyn obtained an even break with Boston today by winning the afternoon game in a sensational pitchers' battle 1 to 0. Nearly 25,000 fans saw the contest, which was won in the seventh inning, when Cutshaw singled, took second on Olson's sacrifice and scored the only run of the game on Chief Meyer's timely hit. The Boston team won the morning game 5 to 3, without extending itself. Tyler eased up in the ninth and Brooklyn scored two runs. Dell was wild.

RESTA WINS 300-MILE RACE AT INDIANAPOLIS

Covers Distance in Three Hours, 36 Minutes, 10.82 Seconds.

Wilbur D'Alene Was Second and Ralph Mulford Third—Resta's Stake was $12,000 and the Usual Speedway Trophies

Indianapolis, May 30.—Dario Resta easily won the sixth annual sweepstakes on the Indianapolis Motor Speedway today, completing the 300 miles in three hours, 36 minutes and 10.82 seconds. He finished two minutes ahead of Wilbur D'Alene and three minutes ahead of Ralph Mulford.

Resta's speed was 83.26 miles an hour. Ralph DePalma completed 300 miles of last year's 500 mile grind at an average speed of 9021 miles an hour.

Four men were injured, one seriously, when two of the racing cars overturned. Jack LeCain, driving as relief for Jules Devinge, is in a serious condition as a result of overturning on the north turn. LeCain, was caught under the machine, suffering internal injuries and an injury to his skull. The mechanician was slightly hurt. Tom Rooney's car blew a tire and smashed into the wall at the top of the south turn. The mechanician, Thane Houser, was thrown over the wall and was bruised and cut. Rooney was caught in the round which slid down the track. He suffered a broken leg and dislocated shoulder.

After the 173rd mile, Resta had little competition for first place and the pace slowed up. Eddie Rickenbacher and John Aitken fought Resta for the lead as long as they were in the race, but engine trouble put both out, Rickenbaches in the tenth lap and Aitken in the 69th. Rickenbacher later took the wheel of Pete Anderson's car and drove it over the tape in sixth place. The first ten drivers, who share the prize money, finished in the following order:

Resta, D'Alene, Mulford, Josef Christians, Barney Oldfield, Eddie Rickenbacher, Gil Anderson driving Howard Wilcox's car, O. F. Haibe, Arthur Johnson and Tom Alley.

Resta won the $12,000 first prize and the usual trophies; D'Alene's reward was $6,000 and Mulford's $3,000. The prizes then range down to $800 for tenth place.

The speedway management announced that 83,000 people saw the race.

WAS FORCED INTO KIRKWALL AND HER MAIL TAKEN OFF.

Steamer New Sweden Had Thirty Bags of First-Class Mail Removed.

Newport News, Va., May 30.—All parcel post matter and about 30 sacks of first-class mail from Scandinavian points to the United States were taken from the Swedish steamer New Sweden by the British authorities at Kirkwall, according to Captain Nordman, who reached this port with his vessel last night.

The New Sweden was bound from Gothenburg to Baltimore via Newport News when stopped by a British patrol boat and taken to Kirkwall. Today 116 sacks of first class mail, including a quantity from Scandinavian countries to Canadian points and a quantity of Russian mail, were landed here, having been undisturbed by the Kirkwall authorities.

EARLE COTTON SHOT AND KILLED BY CONVICT GUARD.

In His Fourth Attempt to Escape from Penitentiary Camp.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Raleigh, N. C., May 30.—Earle Cotton, desperate convict of good family, was shot and killed by a guard today at the State convict camp at Graphiteville, when he made a fourth attempt to escape. He was serving a 30-year sentence for the murder of Dr. Smith, of Richmond, he and accomplices having drugged and robbed him and thrown him, unconscious or dead, into the rock quarry east of the city. He had served six years and had escaped three times.

He was a son of the late Dr. A. T. Cotton, for many years a prominent practicing physician of Wake county. His aged mother still lives in Raleigh.

Boston, May 30.—The league leading Washington's lost twoce today to the world's champions, Boston winning 4 to 3 and 8 to 2 in morning and afternoon games, respectively.

McNally, substituting for Barry at second for the Red Sox played a prominent part in both victories. His batting record this afternoon was three hits and three runs in three times at bat. He fielded flawlessly in 15 chances during the day.

In the morning game the visitors made 14 hits, but had 15 men left on bases. Smart fielding by the locals made up for weakness in pitching.

Detroit, May 30.—Detroit and Chicago divided the Decoration Day games, the morning contest going to the White Sox 3 to 1, while the Tigers took a ten inning slugging match this afternoon. Seven pitchers were used in the second game. Each team scored three runs in the ninth. In the tenth Dauss was passed and scored the winning run on Bush's sacrifice and Vitt's single. Umpire Dineen announced this afternoon that the decision made in the morning game when Felsch was called because Veach had momentarily held the ball before dropping it. It was quite generally thought that Felsch was retired because he had stopped running to first.

First game— R. H. E.

New York, May 30.—The Philadelphia Americans broke even with New York today, winning their first victory of the season in New York here this afternoon when the sensational young pitcher, Myers, bested Shawkey, a former Athletic twirler, in a pitchers' battle and won 1 to 0. Philadelphia scored its run with two out in the seventh inning when Boone made a wild throw on Walsh, who stole second, and scored on Oldring's single.

The morning game was won by the locals 7 to 2 in an easy manner. Crowell gave eleven bases on balls, six during the first inning.

First game— R. H. E.

St. Louis, May 30.—Severoid's hit in the 15th inning scored Pratt with the winning run for St. Louis in the first game of a double-header from Cleveland today, 5 to 4. The second game, which was called on account of darkness, after seven innings, ended in a 1 to 1 tie.

In the first game Cleveland scored in the first inning. The locals tied it up in the seventh when Miller hit for a home run.

In the 10th Howard for Cleveland doubled, O'Neill walked, and when Coveleskie hit to right, Tobin and Miller collided and it went for a home run.

United States 'Chain' Tread Tires

Experience, the Teacher of Tire Lessons

The experience of your last week-end holiday trip has told you something about the tires you use—

—That they are, or they are not, the particular tires suited to your particular car.

Experience taught the United States Tire Company that all tires are not suited to all cars.

That is why the United States Tire Company makes five different tires—a tire to meet every need of price and use—the only complete line offered by any tire manufacturer.

One of the five is made for your car—will give you the lowest cost per mile.

"Cannon Ball" Baker's transcontinental world's record car was equipped with United States 'Balanced' Tires. Baker says: "No other tires would have stood the test."

Ask the nearest United States Tire Dealer for your copy of the booklet, "Judging Tires," which tells how to find the particular tire to suit your needs.

TOP O' THE MORNING.

Only the faithful man can look back upon his past without pain. Let us remember that the time will come when nearly all of life will be behind us, and we will want now and then to look back. Shall our view of the past be spoiled by our unfaithfulness? PELL.

The sales of oleomargerine in this country in April amounted to more than 14,000,000 pounds. Making that the average for each month, and yet it is more, the annual production would be 160,000,000 pounds. This shows the limitless opportunities for genuine butter factories in the South.

Newbern, according to remarks in The Sun-Journal, is to have a great preparedness parade. We have asked ourselves about it and the answer was that we haven't enough of it to parade it around. We ought to have enough of it to keep us from taking imperial impudence or getting a foreign frailing. We are a real pacifist but there wouldn't be any satisfaction in it if any of them could wade ashore and tie a can to us while we hold up both our hands.

DOING THINGS OR DOWNING THINGS.

Listen! Always vote for progress. We can't get too much of it in Wilmington. Nothing else yields such a high percentage o f development. Talk sounds good but the voice business alone will never make Wilmington grow. Doing things will count. Those of us who talk can find that out by matching coin with those who do things. They can stay in the game the longest, and the question is not at all debatable. The city which does things is just like the man who does something and keeps right on doing it.

Shut your eyes and vote solidly for progress at the election next Saturday. The slickest tongue artist can't put up a reasonable argument against progress if he will only dispute with himself a while. He might point to the price of progress, or hesitate at the price, but progress at any price is cheap. It is cheap in the long run and we will find it out when we commence getting it in great chunks.

Stagnation or normality comes high compared with progress at any price. The highest priced thing anywhere is the dry rot, and nobody can dispute it with a wheelbarrow full of dictionaries. Saying that "We had better go slow" is no argument. We have tried "going slow" till we are right where we are and realize that we had better get a move on us. No terrapin has ever been entered in a race, and it's all on account of its gait. No snail has ever won the stakes by getting there first, and, therefore, its pace is its greatest handicap. A slow gait that gets nothing is awfully expensive compared with progress and achievements which pay a great deal more than they cost.

Any kind of progress is worth a great deal more than it costs. A citizen can shut his eyes and vote for it without making a mistake. Wilmingtonians have a chance to do it next Saturday, and the only mistake they can make is to have cold feet on any of the four progress propositions to be voted for. It is not a question of cost or increase of taxes, but it is simply a question of bringing down the cost and decreasing taxation by doing something to bring about industrial expansion in Wilmington.

Anything that we can do to make Wilmington grow and increase her taxable values necessarily means lower taxes in the long run. If we can make Wilmington an industrial city and consequently create more wealth and provide employment for idle people, we can have hope of decreasing taxation, but if we do not make more opportunities for ourselves and increase the thrift and prosperity of Wilmington, her wealth will remain at zero and our taxes will necessarily have to be high to meet the demands of a modern-idead people.

If we propose to keep on entertaining modern ideas we certainly will have to pay for them and will have to do things so we can line up to ideals that we can never get by standing still and expecting something for nothing. Of course, we are going to vote for progress because the only way out of it would be to take the back track instead of being forward looking, forward moving and something doing people.

HISTORY OF THE STATE OF ROBESON

The ever enterprising Maxton Scottish Chief features its last issue with a supplement history of Robeson county, written by Mr. D. P. Waters and gotten out in a handsome eight-page section printed on heavy book paper. It is attractively illustrated and contains exceedingly attractive views of Lumberton, Maxton and Rowland, together with photogravures of some of the chief men of the leading communities of that great county. Among the portrais is that of Mr. W. B. Harker, editor in chief, and one of the State's ablest newspaper men.

The sketch of the county is one of romantic interest and thorough excellence and is based upon data compiled by Mr. James D. Proctor, of Lumberton and originally published in somewhat different form in the Lumberton Robesonian. The writer goes back to 1786 when the former Robeson county, then an immense area, was instituted out of a portion of Bladen county. Yet, the sketch contains absorbingly interesting history of the region during the colonial period long ante-dating the formation of the county. The county was the scene of many bloody encounters between the Revolutionary patriots and Tories, who were strong and active in the middle and upper Cape Fear country. Robeson's Revolutionary history is full of interest and entertainment, but no part of its history is more genuinely entertaining than that which refers to the progress and development of the county up to this time.

The early settlement of Robeson county is a matter of peculiar interest since it includes what is known as the Croatan Indians and the Ssotch settlers who came here after the battle of Culloden in Scotland in 1746, when the vanquished Highlanders who supported the Stuarts were banished from their native Scotland. The progressive Robeson county of today is the constructive achievement of the generations of sturdy and thrifty people who have been identified with the county for more than a hundred years.

Accompanying the article are sketches of Lumberton, Maxton, Rowland, Partkon, Red Springs Fairmont and St. Pauls, all flourishing places that are making splendid progress in the midst of resourceful surroundings. One only needs to look at the handsome street and building scenes to realize how substantial are the chief towns of the State of Robeson. Robeson and her towns are present day evidence of modern progress and we doubt whether there is any portion of the State with such assured prospects as that which Editor Harker tells us about in his historical edition of Maxton's splendid paper.

PACKING HOUSE MEETING THIS AFTERNOON.

A special meeting of the Chamber of Commerce will be held this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock to hear the report of the special committee sent to Moultrie, Ga., to investigate the packing house industry in that enterprising South Georgia city. The committee composed of Messrs. W. W. Love, of Wilmington, A. M. Chinnis, of Phoenix, and A. M. Lucas, of Councils, will be in attendance and lay before the meeting a thorough and comprehensive report as to their observations concerning the Moultrie enterprise.

The committee has not given out advance particulars of their investigation, so it will be of more than usual interest to hear it in its complete form. For some time Wilmington has been talking packing house, and now our citizens will get some first hand information of a practical kind. It is understood that a packing house for Wilmington is practically assured, but The Star is requested to state that no stock proposition will be made at the meeting this afternoon. Those who attend will be given an opportunity to hear the committee's report so that all those interested may be prepared to take whatever action they deem proper at a subsequent meeting to take up the matter on its merits.

This is a good opportunity for Wilmington to manifest live appreciation of a chance to promote a great enterprise, and it is hoped the spirit that will be manifested today will mean something for all this portion of the State.

NEW YORK'S GRAIN SUPREMACY.

New York is America's greatest grain exporting point, Baltimore comes second and Philadelphia third. New York's grain trade since January 1 amounted to 69,670,000, of which 84 per cent or 58,927,000 bushels went into the export trade. New York's average grain shipments have been 3,466,000 a week for the past five months.

The seven grain exporting points of the United States and their record for 1915 follow: New York, 218,612,071 bushels; Baltimore 104,255,753 bushels; Philadelphia, 69,711,972 bushels; New Orleans, 56,774,000 bushels; San Francisco, 41,987,421 bushels; Galveston, 36,358,832 bushels; Boston, 27,987,421. Total grain exports last year were 554,980,412 bushels as compared with 261,820,151 bushels, an increase of more than 100percent.

That the grain exporting movement keeps up is evident from the recent purchase of a million bushels of wheat in the West in a single day for export. During the week of the current month ending May 11, exports from New York to Europe exceeded 3,000,000 bushels of grain, not including flour. At the current freight rate of 20 pence or 40c. a bushel the vessels during that week's business earned a gross income from that single source of $1,200,000 from New York alone.

The great convention promoters have caught on to a way to secure a record breaking attendance. The invitations now begin this way: "We extend to you and your ladies a cordial invitation to the annual convention of the association" for the promotion of Pow-Wows, or whatever it may be. Good scheme. Let the ladies from Manteo to Murphy insist on coming to Wrightsville Beach to attend the North Carolina Good Roads Convention June 21 to 23. Take no excuse. There is no such thing as an excuse when the ladies make up their minds to that effect. "Nothing doing" when they take a notion that they are not going to be left in the lurch any more.

CURRENT COMMENT

A Federal Land Bank would be a good institution for Charlotte and Charlotte would be a business point for such a bank. This city could present claims worth while, and if proper consideration can be secured for such claims, there is a good probability that Charlotte will get a financial institution that will rank in importance with the prize Richmond drew.—Charlotte Observer.

It is estimated that the cellulose mills of Sweden could produce the entire amount of sulphite spirits required for domestic consumption. Sulphite spirits are produced from waste lye from the sulphite cellulose factories, which was formerly allowed to run to waste into the sea, and it yields about 95 per cent. spirits. The alcohol so obtained is adapted for use as a gasoline substitute, and motors constructed for operation with alcohol as a fuel can be operated both effectively and economically with the suphite spirit.—Paint, Oil and Drug Journal.

It is pleasant news to all North Carolinians that General Julian S. Carr is gack in the State after a trip of months which took him as far as Honolulu. Gen. Carr spent some time in California, and the pictures which came back showing him on his rance, "Carranchia," were proofs that he was in fine health. Gen. Carr will be at the State University commencement this week, andnext goes to St. Louis, being one of the "Big Four" of the North Carolina delegation to the Democratic National Convention. The news is that he had a great time on his western trip.—Raleigh News and Observer.

The purpose which it is intended shall be accomplished by the legalized primary is twofold. It is a new method—new as a statewide measure, and new in certain of its rules, although the voters of a number of the counties, including Guilford, have long since become used to a practice embodying the essential principles of it—a new method, for the State as a whole, for the exercise by the voter of the selective function of his citizenship and his sovereignty. In theory, it will be preferred by the voter; he will find it handier, more satisfactory; he will realize that it is a privilege as well as a duty for him to do his part in the actual selection of the men who are to serve in office. Hitherto, as a voter, he has helped to elect, but never to select. It is very plain that, in the theory of government that is taught to the children in the elementary classes, the voter, as a voter, ought to have something more to do with the choice of the people to whom are to be delegated the powers of government than merely to ratify, as a party man, their selection by somebody else. Not only has the voter, as a voter, hitherto had next to nothing to do with the selection of officials; as a party man he has had no more to do with the selection of the candidates of his party. It is only as a "worker," an "active" Democrat or Republican that one ever realy participates in nominations; the most the mere party man ever does is to vote for a set of precinct committeemen, and there is always an "active" man right there to suggest to him the names he should vote. It may please the voter to have the primary, because he may realize that at last he is exercising some real selective power; or he may find the primary handier than the convention; or he may regard the primary as more troublesome, but appreciate it because he knows it gives him opportunity to perform a duty that he ought to perform; the primary might exist, in short, and become a permanent institution because it is an instrument and a method that rightly belongs to the voters in an inteligent, conscientious and partially educated society.—Greensboro News (Ind.)

CAPT. JOHN WALLACE WILLIS MASHED TO DEATH BY SCOOP.

Loses His Life on Barge Used in Breakwater Work at Beaufort.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Newbern, N. C., May 30.—John Wallace Willis, captain of barge No. 10, which is used in the transportation of rock from Mbrehead City to the breakwater at Cape Lookout, was instantly killed and Mr. H. W. Armstrong, a foreman on the pier, suffered serious injury when a heavy scoop which was being used in coaling up the boat, fell on them late Saturday afternoon.

Captain Willis had only a few minutes before come in from the Cape with his boat and had gone back on deck to ask Mr. Armstrong a question when the accident occurred. The scoop had just been lowered into the boat with a load of coal and was returning to the pier when it fell. Mr. Armstrong saw it coming and managed to get partially out of the way but it struck Mr. Willis fair and square and literally mashed him flat with its 3,000 pounds of weight. Mr. Armstrong was knocked overboard and sustained a broken leg. As quickly as possible the big scoop was lifted off the injured man but he was beyond all aid.

The deceased is survived by his wife and three children and was one of Morehead City's most estimable citizens. The funeral was conducted at Morehead City yesterday morning and the remains interred there.

STEAM AND THE HOME.

"Nobody Lives Where He Was Born, If He Can Get Away."

(Eugene Wood in The Century.)

Steam shelled industry out of the home as one shells peas; put it in the factory; the family, father, mother and the children tagged after, and home survived merely as a place to eat and sleep.

Applied to transportation, though steam did even more. It dissolved the population which had caked and clotted in one parish for a thousand years and made it fluid to run uphill about the earth, uphill from low income to a higher. Nobody lives now where he was born, if he can get away. We're here only till something better somewhere else turns up. The attics under the ancestral shingles, full of horsehide trunks that hold the brocaded satins in which our great-great-grandmothers danced with Lafayette—you read about them in the story books; but they don't exist.

HEALTH IS WEALTH
by John B. Huber, A.M., M.D.

A lean horse for a long race.

Taking on Weight

I AM asked by a lady who seems "to be in good health, to have a good appetite, but to be losing flesh," what she should do to take on weight. There are many others in her class.

In underweights before they are thirty, we have to think of the possibility of tuberculosis; some such people will go to a doctor with a history of having had frequent colds. Or there are those who have been weakened by some such serious disease as typhoid fever or malaria or pneumonia; and they have been too restless or have not been willing or able to take the time for a proper convalescence. Others are exhausted from overwork, or are weak-blooded, or suffer from indigestion, or do not eat enough. For such reasons people are thin.

However, when it comes to the statistics gathered by the Life Extension Institute, the lowest mortality at middle life is found among those a few pounds under weight; therefore those even to advanced life who are spare of build, unless extremely so, or those in really impaired health, should not worry.

How can a "skinny party," otherwise in good health, ambitious to take on weight, do so in a perfectly natural way? Assume such an one takes for breakfast a cup of coffee, an egg and a roll. Instead of mostly coffee let him take two parts of milk and one of coffee; also a great deal of butter on his bread; two eggs instead of one, and butter with them. Lunch in like manner, taking more cream and more sugar. And let him make his drinks more nutritious; instead of alcohol, which decreases rather than adds to weight, egg lemonades and milkshakes are best. Three good meals the day, with a glass of milk and bread and butter (sugar on the butter) between meals. Let him aim for a quarter of a pound of butter the day—butter on oatmeal, other cereals, eggs, bread, everything. Sugar is fattening, too; be sure, however, to take the sweets at the end of the meal. Potatoes and all starchy food, well chewed, are also fattening. Moderate exercise, deep breathing, and sleeping eight hours at night (in the fresh air) with a twenty-minutes siesta in the afternoon—these agencies also conduce to "heft."

FACIAL SPASM.

I. H. asks: My face twitches a great deal on the left side. The trouble began months ago with twitching of my right eyelid. There comes a series of quick twitches and then a rest. This is not painful, but it is very uncomfortable and embarrassing. The period of rest between the twitches is getting shorter and shorter, and so I am disturbed more and more. Can you tell me the reason for this and what I can do for it?

Answer: This kind of facial spasm is likely to come on in very nervous people, especially in middle and advanced life, and more in women than in men. The trouble usually starts, whenever it is not due to some real physical injury or disease, with some profound shock, some emotional stress, some great grief or other anxiety. Spasms thus caused ought to be recovered from as soon as there is return to normal mental health. Or the spasm may have had its origin in some undue exposure, as too severe a cold or after getting the feet in snow and icy water; such exposure having resulted in an ear or nose abscess. The nerves supplying such diseased parts of the head may be inflamed or pressed on by a bony growth of a polypus or a "pus pocket" in the region of the ear, the mastoid (behind the ear), the nose, the eye, the tear discs or the teeth. If the facial spasm is due to any of these latter ("structural") causes, the question of relief would depend on examination by a competent physician and removal, when possible, of the organic trouble.

SCIATICA.

Answer to L. L. F.: This pain in the course of the sciatic nerve, which runs down the back of the thigh, comes from rheumatism or gout or exposure to cold and wet, especially in robust persons. Such a sufferer must rest; he may take phenacetin, eight grains for three hourly doses. If then he doesn't get relief, the doctor should be called in; he may have to inject medicine directly into the nerve.

Home Celebration of Wonder Interest

The arrival of a baby in the household completely changes the entire aspect of the future. But in the meantime, during the anxious period of expectancy, there is a splendid remedy known as "Mother's Friend" that does wonders. It is for external use, relieves the pains of muscle expansion, soothes and quiets the nerves, extends its influence to the internal organs and removes to a great extent the tendency to worry and apprehension. It is a natural treatment, safe for the mother, has no drug effect whatsoever and for this reason must exert a most beneficial influence upon those functions directly connected with motherhood. In a very interesting book the subject is freely discussed and a copy will be mailed free to all expectant mothers by Bradfield Regulator Co., 706 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga. Get a bottle of "Mother's Friend" today of any druggist. Use as directed and you will then know why mothers for nearly half a century have used and recommended this splendid aid to motherhood. Their letters are messages of cheer, that breathe comfort in every word.

It is worth while to know that "Mother's Friend" has been in continuous use more than half a century. Letters are frequently received to say that a young mother learned of this splendid remedy from her mother and from her grandmother both of whom used it with happiest results.

Because of this fact you may rely implicitly upon its safety, its effectiveness and its directness of purpose.

NOTICE OF SPECIAL ELECTION AND NEW REGISTRATION.

Notice is hereby given that the Council of the City of Wilmington, by an ordinance duly adopted on the 26th day of April, 1916, called and ordered to be held in the City of Wilmington on Saturday, the 3rd day of June, 1916, a special election for the purpose of submitting to the qualified electors of said City an ordinance adopted by said Council on the 26th day of April, 1916, by which ordinance the tax ordinance of said City for the fiscal year ending May 31st, 1917, and previously adopted by said Council, is amended, said amending ordinance fixing the total tax rate for said City for said fiscal year at $1.85 upon the one hundred dollars property valuation, and authorizing said Council to levy and collect as a part of the total rate aforesaid a special tax of 10c. on the one hundred dollars property valuation, or so much thereof as may be necessary for the purpose of improving and extending the water works system of said City, the purchase of additional fire fighting apparatus for the Fire Department of said City, the improvement of Princess Street in said City, and the establishment or creation of an industrial or manufacturing suburb to said City.

By said amending ordinance the propositions to improve said waterworks system and purchase for said Fire Department additional apparatus, the improvement of Princess Street and the establishment of said industrial or manufacturing suburb are provided to be voted upon separately.

The said Council has further ordered as provided by law an entirely new registration of the voters of said City for said election; the following named polling places have been designated and registrars and judges of election have been appointed for the holding and conducting of said election, namely:

First Ward Precinct—Polling place, Engine House, 4th and Campbell; Registrar, W. H. Howe; Judges, James Elkins, R. J. Darden, Sr.

Second Ward Precinct—Polling place, Court House; Registrar, W. W. Hodges; Judges, D. H. Howes, Jr., W. J. Meredith.

Third Ward Precinct—Polling place, Giblem Lodge, downstairs; Registrar, L. H. Partin; Judges, H. E. Bonitz, Coy Hewett.

Fourth Ward Precinct—Polling place, McClellan's Stables; Registrar, J. B. King; Judges, T. D. Love, S. Zeigler.

First Division, Fifth Ward Precinct—Polling place, New Engine House; Registrar, J. E. Taylor; Judges, A. W. Branch, Thos. Lawson.

Second Division, Fifth Ward Precinct—Polling place, Old Engine House; Registrar, T. G. Landen; Judges, J. B. Fales, M. Marshburn.

Sixth Ward Precinct—Polling place, Mann's Store; Registrar, J. F. Mann; Judges, W. I. Holt, W. A. Woods.

Said election will be held between the hours of sunrise and sunset on the said 3rd day of June, 1916.

Each registrar will, between the hours of 9:00 o'clock A. M. and 5:00 o'clock P. M., on each day (Sunday excepted) for seven days preceding the day for the closing of the registration books keep open said books for the registration of the voters in their respective precincts, and said registration books will be open from 9:00 o'clock A. M. until 9:00 o'clock P. M. on each Saturday during said registration period and shall be closed for registration on the 2nd Saturday before the 3rd day of June, 1916. No registration will be allowed on said election day except to such persons as shall give satisfactory evidence to the registrar and judges of election that he has become of the age of twenty-one years, or otherwise has become qualified to register and vote since the registration books closed for registration.

On the second Saturday before the election the registration books will be kept open at the polling places in the voting precincts for the inspection of electors and to enable challenges to be made to the right of any person to vote in said election whose name appears on said books, and if any person is objected to notice will be given him and a hearing granted, as provided by law.

The Council has appointed the registrars and judges of election as hereinbefore stated, and caused them to be notified of their appointment, and required them to take the oath required by law, and will cause to be furnished all necessary books and arrange for the ballots, and will fill all vacancies occurring either as to registrars or judges as provided by law, and will receive returns from said election as provided by law.

By order of the Council of the City of Wilmington.

THOS. D. MEARES,
ap30-td City Clerk and Treasurer.

ESCAPES FROM HOSPITAL

Interned Negro Convet Outruns Orderly Despite Buckshot Riddled Anatomy and Gets Away.

Somewhere, not very far away perhaps—just where there are a lot of city and county officers and detectives anxious to know—there is a negro convict with a lot of buckshot in his anatomy who in spite of his grievous wounds, succeeded in outrunning the hospital orderly at the James Walker Memorial Hospital during the early hours of Monday morning, making his escape successfully. Three o'clock was the exact hour Charlie Smith, alias "Funkhouse", chose for making his break from the colored ward, where he was supposed to be interned until such a time as he would be able to return to serve out a long term on the county roads.

About a week or so ago, "Funkhouse" got tired of improving the county roads, and concluded he would just make a break for liberty. The guard saw him as he started and let him have the contents of his shotgun. Six or more heavy buckshot took effect in his back and legs, while a bullet from an automatic pistol split his knee-cap. On one or more occasions recently, Superintendent Rivenbark visited the hospital and discussed the question of putting a guard over the patient, but it was thought that it was unnecessary in view of the bad shape the patient was in. Perhaps Smith had a suspicion that some such move was in prospect, and that was why the county prison's superintendent was so solicitous about his condition.

"No, Doc, I jess natcherly cain't move that laig at all," was what the patient told one of the hospital physicians the other day. He was only faking, though, for when the nurse saw him start to leave the ward, she called to the orderly and the negro not only moved the leg, but he worked the knee joint so rapidly that that person could not overtake him, according to the hospital superintendent. "He ran like a rabbit," said the orderry who was puffing and blowing after his unsuccessful chase. The officers and detectives hope to be able to pick him up eventually, but up to a late hour last night it was reported that he had not been found.

The officers are still looking for Jim Hill, colored, another convict, who succeeded in escaping from a gang of convicts engaged in building a road neear Winter Park, Monday afternoon. The county recently paid out several hundred dollars to get this negro back from Blackwell's Island, N. Y., where he had just finished a term. The guards shot at Hill as he made his break, but apparently did not hit him. Another negro came down to the police station yesterday and complained that since his escape Hill had used a brick-bat on him. He has about eight months still to serve, but had not been captured at a late hour last night.

RURAL CARRIERS ELECTED OFFICERS AND DELEGATES

Mr. A. K. Mallard, of Atkinson, is Elected President

The chief feature of the convention of the Association of Rural Free Delivery Carriers of the Wilmington district held yesterday was the election of officers for the ensuing term. The following were named: A. K. Mallard, of Atkinson, president; J. T. Simpkins, of Castle Haynes, vice-president; J. W. Russ, of Wilmington, secretary-treasurer.

Messrs. R. F. Gore, of this city, and A. K. Mallard were elected delegates to attend the State convention at Greensboro July 3, and Mr. C. F. Matthews, of Watha, was re-elected chairman of the organization committee. The next meeting of the association will be held on Labor Day. Outside of the election of officers only business of a routine nature was transacted a the meeting.

MR. BRYANT SMITH DEAD.

Well Known Planter of Wake County Passed Away at Home Near Raleigh.

Mr. Bryant Smith, father of Mrs. T. C. Morris, of Wilmington, passed away Saturday night at his home near Raleigh following an illness of several weeks after a stroke of paralysis complicated with an attack of pneumonia. He was one of the leading planters of Wake county. He was 73 years old.

Mr. Smith leaves a large family to mourn his death. Besides his aged widow he is survived by five children as follows: Mrs. Ben Morgan, Mrs. Bessie Jordan and Messrs. David and C. E. Smith, of Raleigh, and Mrs. T. C. Morris, of Wilmington.

The funeral was held Sunday afternoon from the residence near Raleigh and the interment was in the family lot in Enwood cemetery in Raleigh.

ENTERS "MOVIE GAME."

Miss Hazel Miranda, of This City, Accepts Attractive Offer.

Of much interest to her many friends here will be the announcement that Miss Hazel Miranda, one of Wilmington's most attractive and accomplished young ladies, has accepted an offer made her by one of the leading New York moving picture corporations. Miss Miranda is the second Wilmington girl to forsake the more prosaic callings for a career in filmland, Miss Worth, of this city, having recently appeared in a leading role in a Thanhouser production.

Miss Miranda will probably not leave to take up her new work until the latter part of the summer. She will be remembered by those who do not know her personally, as having posed for the Belk-Williams Company in the recent window decorating contest held here.

ODORS AT ABATTOIR HAVE ALL BEEN ELIMINATED

Citizens Living in Vicinity Now Have No Reason For Complaint

Announcement was made at the Health Department yesterday morning that the bad odors in the vicinity of the Sans Souci Abattoir on the Castle Haynes road about which much complaint had been made recently have been removed and that in the future there would be no reason for further protests. It was found that the bad odors complained of had their source in the escaping gases from the tankage chamber because of the breaking of a pipe leading to the creek. This was under ground and it required some time to locate the trouble.

At a recent meeting of the Board of Health, Mayor Moore called attention to the complaints that had been made and he was promised that the matter would be investigated immediately.

SOUTHERN PORTS PREPARING

For Taking Care of Nation's Expanding Commerce—What Southport and Wilmington Are Doing

In order to show in as brief form as possible the more striking improvements that are being made at all Southern ports, the Manufacturers Record recently secured from municipal authorities and commercial organization statement as to harbor improvement that have been made during the last 12 months or that are now under way. Of interest locally will be the statements from Wilmington and Southport. Summing up the results of these investigations, The Record says:

"The nation's commerce is expanding with amazing rapidity, and all Eastern ports are congested with traffic beyond the facilities of the railroads to handle or ships to load and carry abroad. In this situation, so acute, that it is seriously interfering with the railroad and business operations of the whole country, is a supreme opportunity for the South. Here is a chance such as the South has never before had to provide the facilities for meeting this growing world traffic and becoming the outlet for the enormous increase in the nation's commerce.

"It is now seen by financiers and railroad people generally that the only relief which the nation can secure is through the development of traffic via Southern ports. Hence, Southern ports have become an absolute necessity to save the business interests of the country from such congestion as would bring about a collapse in railroads and in foreign commerce, and thus in domestic trade; for with miles of tracks blocked by unloaded cars awaiting shipment, all domestic trade of the whole East is hampered, for goods cannot be delivered even if ships were available.

"This situation is so acute that it is of vital concern to every business interest in the country that Southern ports should be developed to the utmost extent possible in order to lessen the strain and the congestion on Eastern railroads and Eastern seaports. It is important, therefore, that the managers and the dominant financiers of Southern railroads should utilize this occasion immediately, and not only help to provide the facilities for tarffic, but to give freight rates to South Atlantic and Gulf ports, which will turn the tide of business now overcrowding the traffic lines from the West to the East, and cause it to move from the West to the South.

"Southern ports from Maryland to Texas are getting ready for a large development of coastwise and foreign trade through the building of elevators and docks, and wharves, and warehouses, and coal piers. At some of these ports notable progress is being made, while at others less is being done than the situation justifies. In magnitude and far-reaching influence in the character of its municipally-owned cotton warehouses, grain elevators and kindred interests, New Orleans is taking the lead."

Relative to the improvements under way at Southport, Secretary C. L. Stevens, of the Commercial Association, of that place, says:

"The principal harbor improvement made at Southport, N. C., during the past year was the reconstruction of the dock and coal pier of the Wilmington, Brunswick & Southern Railway, the front of the dock being widened and the coal capacity increased, with easier handling of boats. The changes made cost $8,000.

"The government quarantine station, just above this city, built at an original cost of $250,000, and one of the most thoroughly equipped plants of its kind in this country, is being further improved and added to at a cost of $25,000.

"The local municipal authorities have under consideration the construction of a municipal dock and warehouse. These to be free, in order to encourage and foster maritime commerce to this place. The minimum cost is estimated at $5,000.

"Dosher, St. George & Co., are building a dock and additional warehouses for their fishing business, which now includes a canning factory. The dock will extend to the edge of the channel, and boats will be able to unload on both sides of it."

The secretary of the Wilmington Chamber of Commerce sends the following statement of conditions at this port:

"The port of Wilmington has been making substantial progress along the line of general improvements, consisting of new storage warehouses, steamship terminals, docks, etc., during the past two years. During this period several large storage warehouses, to be used for various purposes, have been completed and put in operation. The general improvements at the port have not been hampered by the European conflict, and it is keeping pace with the leading South Atlantic coast cities. A short summary giving specific information is as follows:

"Alexander Sprunt & Son, large cotton exporters, have recently acquired a block of water front 330x500 feet at a cost of about $175,000, which adjoins their present large cotton compresses. The improvement of this property is to meet the demands of their business, and it will be an extensive and substantial development of the terminal facilities at this port. Foreign exports of cotton from Wilmington during 1915 were 289,511 bales, as compared with 92,636 bales the previous season. This cotton was exported to the various countries engaged in the European conflict without the loss of a single ship or any one of the number being held for a prize court.

"The new terminals of the Clyde Steamship Co., on which about $125,000 have been expended, and which afford facilities for two ships at one time, is a substantial improvement for the handling of coastwise traffic between New York and Wilmington. The covered area of the terminal totals about 52,000 square feet. It is served by two lines of track, accommodating 16 cars, making direct connection with the Atlantic Coast Line and the Seaboard Air Line railroads. In addition to the terminals is property adjoining of approximately 100,000 square feet, which will amply take care of any increase of business and is well suited for the location of warehouses. Ample fire protection at these terminals gives merchandise a lower insurance rate than on other property on the river front.

"The Hilton Compress & Warehouse Co. docks, owned by the W. B. Cooper Company, were completed within the past two years, at a cost of more than $100,000, for ocean steamers. The W. B. Cooper Company exports cotton. The work of dredging out the river in front of this compress has given sufficient depth to accommodate ships of 25 feet draft.

"Two large storage warehouses erected by the Hilton Lumber Co. and leased to the C. C. Covington Company, importers of molasses, have recently been completed and constitute perhaps one of the most complete warehouse plants for the reception of direct importations of molasses to be found anywhere on the South Atlantic coast. These warehouses are frame metal-covered building with dock in front, where ships drawing 24 feet of water may be discharged. They have a front of 110 feet on the water and a depth of 330 feet. They cost about $18,000 complete. Quite an extensive business in molasses is done through this port, and the new facilities are a big improvement in the interest of this business.

"The contract for the large new custom-house at Wilmington, which will be located on Water street, between Princess and Market, and cover over a half block, has recently been awarded to the Northwestern Construction Co., 225 Fifth avenue, New York city. The total appropriation for the property and building is $600,000. It will be one of the handsomest government buildings in the South, and a great credit to the port of Wilmington."

STRAWBERRY SEASON CLOSED

More Than 700 Carloads Were Shipped From This Section—Season Lasted Nearly Six Weeks.

The last three carloads of strawberries which will go forward this season from local districts were loaded yesterday—two cars at Mount Tabor and one at Chadbourn—making a total of 704 carloads which have been shipped under refrigeration out of this territory this year, as compared with a movement of 925 carloads for last year. The movement therefore, represents a falling off in the neighborhood of 25 per cent, as compared with that of last year.

On account of the low prices received, due to the crowded conditions of markets last year, probably not more than 75 per cent of the crop moved, the rest being left on the vines to rot. This year there was a good demand at excellent prices and berries of all sorts and sizes were easily disposed of. Of the 704 carloads, 454 were shipped out of the Chadbourn section, and 250 from points along the Wilmington & Weldon road.

The past season has been a very remarkable one for its length. It lasted practically six weeks and was nearly twice as long as that of 1915, which only lasted about three and one-half weeks. The first carload of berries was shipped this year from this territory April 21. The shipping season lasted about one month in the years 1910, 1911 and 1912. That of 1914 saw the first carload shipped out April 5, and the last one shipped May 28, the movement of berries extending over a period of about seven and one-half weeks. This year local growers have been shipping berries during the whole Norfolk season, which has also practically closed now, a very unusual condition.

Eight refrigerator cars have been placed to date for loading with snap beans. Most beans, however, go to market by express or fast freight. The cantaloupe shipping season will not open before July 5th.

EIGHT SOLID CARLOADS OF HAPPY CHILDREN TO BEACH.

First Baptist Church Sunday School Broke a Record for Picnics.

The First Baptist church Sunday school broke a record for picnics in this vicinity yesterday when eight solid carloads of happy children with their parents and friends went down to Wrightsville Beach as the guests of the Tidewater Power Company for an outing at the seashore. There were nearly 1,000 in the party, the largest aggregation ever taken to the beach by the Tidewater for a Sunday school outing. There was not an accident or mishap of any kind and the day was spent most pleasantly until late in the afternoon when the summer showers caused the merry picnickers to seek shelter.

Mr. D. H. Howes, Jr., superntendent of the Sundy school, was assisted in looking after the welfare of the children by the corps of teachers and the many parents who went along to enjoy the day with the young folks. Well filled baskets were taken and luncheon served after which many took a dip in the surf, while some of the boys organized a baseball league and had a game of the National sport.

CITY LEAGUE UNION.

Important Meeting Will be Held in Grace Church Monday Night.

The Epworth League City Union will meet in Grace Methodist church next Monday at 8 P. M., after having postponed several meetings on account of the Chapman-Alexander revival services. The Union was organized last fall for the purpose or bringing all Epworth Leaguers in the city together at least once each month. By getting together they will become better acquainted and will be enabled to assist one another in the work.

The meeting Monday night will be devoted principally to a discussion of the Devotional Department and the several leagues should each profit by good ideas advanced by others. It is the aim of the officers of the Union to bring about such co-operation so that the four Epworth Leagues in the city shall seem as one congenial body.

Anyone, who is an Epworth Leaguer, is a member of the Union and is expected to attend the monthly meetings as far as possible. No dues or fees whatsoever are charged for membership.

DON RICHARDSON'S ORCHESTRA TO ARRIVE FRIDAY MORNING.

For Opening of Season at Beach Next Saturday—Sunday Concerts.

Don Richardson and his orchestra are expected to arrive here next Friday morning in order to be on hand for the opening of what is expected to be one of the biggest seasons in the history of Wrightsville Beach. Frequenters of this famous resort in the past know that with such an artist at the beach, a goodly store of concerts and dancing music will be provided.

An innovation this year will be that Sunday evening concerts will be presented on Harbor Island after July 1. The afternoon concerts will be given as usual at Lumina.

Memorial Service Tonight.

The regular mid-week service at St. John's Mission tonight will be a memorial service for the late Mr. Virginius Hall, who was one of the lay readers at the Mission and also superintendent of the Sunday school. The service will be conducted by Bishop Thos. C. Darst, assisted by Rev. W. E. Cox. Friends of the Mission and of the late Mr. Hall are extended a cordial invitation to be present. The service will begin at 8 P. M.

NEW GYMNASIUM DIRECTOR

Mr. Oscar Keller to Succeed Mr. J. P. Seitters at Y. M. C. A.—Latter Goes to Yonkers

Mr. Oscar Keller, a graduate of the Chicago Physical Training School for Young Men's Christian Associations and an experienced physical director, has been secured by the Wilmington association to succeed Mr. J. P. Seitters, who has accepted an attractive offer to a similar position with the Y. M. C. A. in Yonkers, N. Y. Mr. Seitters, who has been the popular and efficient director of the gymnasium of the local association for the past three years, will assume his new duties on September 1st and Mr. Keller will succeed him here at the same time.

Since coming to Wilmington, Mr. Seitters has won the high esteem of all who knew him. He has been largely instrumental in building up the physical work of the association to its present high standing. The number of men taking work in the gymnasium is now much larger than ever before in the history of the association. Mr. Seitters is well equipped for his chosen life work, being a graduate of the Chicago Training School and having been connected with several leading associations in the country.

Since taking up his work in Wilmington, Mr. Seitters has married and he will be accompanied to Yonkers about September 1st by his wife and child. Naturally their departure will be a matter of regret to their many friends in this city, who nevertheless will wish them the greatest success in their new field.

Mr. Keller, who will succeed Mr. Seitters, although still a young man, has had much experience in gymnasium work and General Secretary J. B. Huntington feels that he has been particularly fortunate in securing his services. Before going to Chicago, where he was connected with several Y. M. C. A. gymnasiums, Mr. Keller was connected for some time with the Atlanta association. He will be given a cordial welcome to the city.

MEMORIAL DAY OBSERVED IN WILMINGTON YESTERDAY

Government Offices Closed and Services Held

National Memorial Day was observed here yesterday by the closing of government offices and the observance of holiday hours at the postoffice. The other offices closed either all or part of the day were those of the Weather Bureau and the United States District Engineer.

In the afternoon several thousand colored citizens formed a parade at Mabel hall at Sixth and Campbell streets and, headed by two brass bands, marched to the National services where memorial services were conducted. The speaker of the day was Prof. D. J. Jordan, of the colored A. & M. College at Greensboro, one of the leading colored educators of the State, who made an eloquent and inspiring address.

The invocation for the exercises was offered by Rev. J. A. Mallett, which was followed by a number of musical selections by the choir of Central Baptist church, this city. After the address by Prof. Jordan, Rev. W. H. Moore dismissed the audience. There were between 4,000 and 5,000 people present at the exercises.

The cemetery was decorated with many hundred United States flags. The flags over the public buildings were hung at half mast in honor of the day.

MOVEMENT TO CLOSE THE STORES MEETS WITH FAVOR.

Other Merchants Join in the Movement to Observe Half Holiday.

The movement inaugurated the past week to close the retail stores of Wilmington on each Friday afternoon during the summer months has met with the general approval of the public. In addition to the half hundred merchants, whose names were published in yesterday's Star, it was announced yesterday that inadvertently two names were omitted, these being Messrs. Peterson & Ruifs and Messrs Chesnutt & Freeman, both well known shoe firms in this city.

It has been suggested that the furniture stores of the city close also on Friday afternoons and in all probability this will be done. There are several other stores in the city, who expect to join in the movement, whose names have not yet been announced. The stores will be closed next Friday afternoon at 1 o'clock and patrons are requested to bear this in mind so that they not be caused any inconvenience.

CLOSING OF SCHOOL.

Certificantes and Prizes Presented to Pupils of Misses Hart and Brown.

Following the conclusion of examinations in the private school of which Miss Hart and Miss Brown are associate principals, the session was yesterday brought to a close by the presentation of certificates and prizes to the successful competitors for honors. Certificates are given only to pupils attaining 95 per cent. or more in lessons or conduct. Prizes are given as follows: In lessons for 90 per cent. or for the highest number attained; in conduct for the record judged by the principals to have been the most deserving; in punctuality for 100 per cent. or for the highest number attained.

Certificates of proficiency in scholarship were won by Jane Russell, with an average of 97.7; Esther Gouverneur, 97.6; Nannie Hart Burr, 97.6; Lucy Gaylord, 95.6.

Prizes were awarded as follows: For attaining the maximum in punctuality to Nannie Hart Burr, Lucy Gaylord, Esther Gouverneur. Lost through sickness only: by Harriet McDonald, Everett Huggins, Thomas Jacobs, Albertas Gaylord and Jean Gaylord; for scholarship to Jane Russell; for conduct, to Esther Gouverneur and Jane Russell; for highest total average for punctuality, scholarship and conduct, to Esther Gouverneur; for best record in sewing class, and for best record in writing, to Harriet McDonald.

The Marion medal, for "conscientiousness and courtesy" was earned by Nannie Hart Burr.

Important Meeting For Men

There will be an important meeting of the men of St. James' Parish at the Parish house tonight at 8 o'clock. All the men of the congregation are urged to be present.

TO RUN SPECIAL PULLMAN.

From Wilmington to Newbern for State Epworth League Conference.

The delegates from the Fifth Avenue Epworth League who are going to the Epworth League Conference to be held at Newbern from June 7th to 11th have made arrangements for a special Pullman car to be attached to the train leaving here for Newbern at 3:25 P. M., next Wednesday, the 7th. Returning, the Pullman will be attached to the train leaving Newbern Monday morning and arriving in Wilmington at 12:50. All delegates from Wilmington leagues and those who will necessarily have to pass through Wilmington on their trip are invited to join with the Fifth Avenue delegation on this trip.

NEGRESS GETS 60 DAYS AT FARM.

Burglary Charge Against George Evans is Dismissed.

The chief sufferer at yesterday morning's session of the Recorder's court was Ella Wallace, colored, who was given 60 days at the county farm on the charge of assault with deadly weapon in default of ability to pay a fine and costs.

Other cases disposed of were those of Emanuel Lane and Arthur Bennett, two colored boys, who had their cases dismissed on the charge of riding bicycles without bells; and George Evans, colored, against whom a charge of burglary was dismissed for want of probable cause.

A Breath of Spring.

Like a breath of spring came a beautiful assortment of attractive sweet peas of many colors and hues to The Star office from Mr. Will Rehder, the Florist, last evening, these having been picked fresh from his large collection of these attractive flowers. All the colors of the rainbow wree represented and the odor lingered in the office as a pleasant reminder of nature's unexcelled laboratory.

DELIGHTFUL RECEPTION TO NEW MEMBERS LAST NIGHT

A delightful reception was held at the First Presbyterian church last evening for the new members of the church, who have been received in recent months, the occasion being under the auspices of the Brotherhood Bible class and the R. A. Brand class of young women. The church parlors were beautifully decorated, the color scheme being white and gold, the colors of the R. A. Brand Bible class Owing to the rather inclement weather the attendance was not so large as it would have been otherwise, but that there were several hundred present.

An enjoyable musical programme was rendered including both instrumental and vocal selections, Prof. George L. Johnson, being the accompanist. Misses Mary Bellamy Baggs and Margaret Toon gave several delightful readings. Delicious refreshments of ice cream and cake were served during the evening.

MR. HENRY C. DALE, OF BOLTON WEDS MISS LOLA BROWN

China Grove, N. C., May 30.—Mr Henry C. Dale, of Bolton, N. C., and Miss Lola Brown, of this place, were married in Luther's Chapel church here Sunday, immediately following the regular church service, the marriage coming as a surprise to the friends of the young couple. The engagement had been kept a secret.

Immediately after the sermon it was announced that there would be a further service and the congregation was seated. Miss Ruth Brown, sister of the bride, played the wedding march. As Miss Edna Brown and the bride entered one aisle Mr. J. W. Dale and the groom entered the other. They met at the altar and Rev. C. A. Brown, father of the bride, performed the ceremony, in a very impressive manner.

A course dinner was served at the bride's home and immediately afterwards Mr. and Mrs. Dale left for Bolton by way of Wilmington. Miss Brown had taught at Bolton two years.

WILL PASS BUDGET TODAY

Proposed Disbursements by City For Year Will Show Increase of $10,000—Differences Adjusted

The budget of the city of Wilmington for the fiscal year beginning June 1st will be passed by City Council at its regular weekly meeting this morning. The total proposed disbursements for the year will aggregate approximately $350,000, showing an increase of about $10,000 over the previous year, made necessary by increased expenditures for certain items. Practically all differences are understood to have been adjusted and it is expected that there will be no difficulty in passing the budget practically as it has been agreed upon b ythe finance committee which has had it under consideration for the past month.

One of the principal difficulties that have been in the way was the health budget, which at least one member of the finance committee thought should be changed in some particulars. It is understood that the Board of Health will insist that it remain as originally passed upon by that body but that a committee will appear before Council this morning and agree to make certain changes in administration with the beginning of the new fiscal year in the Health Department. Some members of Council have insisted that a redistribution of work among some of the employes of the Health Department could be made which would result in more efficient work.

One of the largest increases in the budget will be for the purchase of chemicals for the waterworks department. The European was has caused an advance during the past year for these chemicals of approximately 100 per cent., making an increase in the appropriation for this item of about $6,000. This increase has been made unavoidable because of existing conditions.

Another increase in the budget, amounting to about $1,800, is for the operation of the sewerage disposal plant on Burnt Mill creew. A new pump has been installed there to take care of the disposal, which has to be operated by electricity. Another increase, amounting to about $2,000, will be for improving the streets of the city. There are a number of streets badly in need of improvements and Council will endeavor to have as much work of this nature done as it can with the funds at its disposal.

"WEATHER JUST ORDINARY."

Says Official Forecaster in Discussing Recent Temperatures.

"Just ordinary" declared the weather man yesterday in discussing the brand handed out by the local bureau during the past few days to Wilmingtonians. "Yes, it is a little hot and the temperatures may be a little high, but no records have been broken recently," was further averred.

The hottest day so far during May was on Friday, when the mercury climbed to 92, but that wasn't very hot for in thumbing over his records yesterday, the weather man turns up his coat collar to keep from catching cold, and shivers as he informs you that back in May, 1889, on the 11th day of the month, it was much more seasonable—in fact, the thermometer registered all of 97 degrees.

Yesterday's temperatures were at 8 A. M., 78; at 8 P. M., 66, and the maximum was 84 and the minimum 66 degrees. "Yes, I almost forgot to say it rained, but Jupiter Pluvius is generally on the job at this time of the year. 'Just ordinary,' you see."

BIG LOCAL DELEGATION TO ATTEND PYTHIAN CONVENTION

At Waynesville and Will Probably Charter Pullman Car.

It is expected that a large delegation of Wilmington Pythians will attend the State convention of the order which is to be held this year at Waynesville for three days, beginning June 13th.

Capt. Thos. D. Meares, Supreme Master of the Exchequer of the National organization, has received a letter from Mr. W. T. Hollowell, Grand Keeper of the Records and Seal, of the State organization, who resides at Goldsboro, suggesting that the local delegation go by way of Goldsboro, and join the Goldsboro delegation in chartering a special Pullman. A number of local Pythians will probably make the trip to Western Carolina by automobile.

—Mr. George Sternberger, who has been a student for the past term at Davidson College, has returned home to spend the summer with his parents.

PACKING HOUSE COMMITTEE

Will Make Its Report at Meeting of Chamber of Commerce This Afternoon at 3:30 O'clock.

At a specially called meeting of the Chamber of Commerce, which will be held in its rooms in the Murchison National Bank building this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, the packing house committee will submit the report of their investigating committee, which went to Moultrie recently to study the packing house plant there, which is similar in type to the one which it is proposed to erect in Wilmington.

The written report of the findings of the investigating committee, which consisted of Messrs. W. W. Love, of this city; A. M. Chinnis, of Phoenix, and A. M. Lucas, of Chadbourn, will be read by Mr. Love.

Special requests have been sent to the members of the committee who live outside of Wilmington asking them to get the composite opinion of the leading citizens and farmers of their districts on the subject of establishing a packing house here, and report the results of their investigations and conferences this afternoon.

President L. E. Hall, of the Chamber of Commerce, will preside at the meeting and invites the freest possible discussion by the many who are expected to attend.

The meeting this afternoon is simply for the purpose of presenting the findings of the committee which investigated conditions at Moultrie, Ga., and the discussion of its report. No effort will be made to obtain subscriptions for stock.

Prospects for the early erection of a a packing house here appear very bright, and farmers are simply awaiting some definite word on the proposition to devote hundreds of their acres to hog raising. One or more men engaged in farming operations have stated that they have sufficient land to handle 2,000 or more hogs without difficulty and intend to do so just as soon as definite assurance is given that the plans for the packing house will materialize.

LOCAL DOTS

—A suit for divorce was instituted in Superior Court yesterday by Paul L. Brown, colored, from his wife, Mary J. Brown. L. Clayton Grant, Esq., represents the plaintiff in action.

—About sunset yesterday as she was strolling down Solomon's alley, Louisa Sykes, colored, was hit in the head with a brickbat. Whether the missile was thrown by a disappointed admirer or an out-and-out enemy, Louisa declined to tell the police. She was removed to the James Walker Memorial Hospital, but later went home.

THEATRICAL

"Salvation Joan" is a story of society, the Salvation Army work in the underworld, and the workings of the American secret service; it is a tale of gold and beauty, and of beauty and love. It is a story with overwhelming and true heart throbs; it is a tale which no one can witness portrayed on the screen with Edna May, famous beauty of two continents, enacting the title role, without at times shedding a tear or gulping hard.

"Salvation Joan" is the most pretentious offering of the Vitagraph Company since the making of "The Battle Cry of Peace." It has been filmed in seven touching parts, an hour and three-quarters of tears and smiles, intermingled with some strong and thrilling dramatic touches, and some interesting insights into the working of that fascinating part of our government, the secret service.

"Salvation Joan" was only made after Vitagraph had induced Miss May to come from London especially to star in the title role. She receives $100,000 for the task, which she has donated to the cause of the Red Cross.

"Salvation Joan" is absolutely enacted by an all-star cast. Witness: Harry Morey, L. Rogers Lytton, Dorothy Kelley, Robby Connelly, Donald Hall. Miss May holds her own with this all-star cast, for "Salvation Joan" might have been written around either one of the members of the notable cast.

"Salvation Joan" has not before been presented in a city smaller than Atlanta, where it packed them in for a solid week. "Salvation Joan" comes to the Royal tomorrow for one day only, and is the event of the week, so far as big value in motion pictures goes.

At the Grand Today.

One of the most extraordinarily unique and singular dramatic features ever filmed is "The Capital Prize", a two-reel Imp drama heading today's bill at the Grand theatre, starring Harry Benham, with pretty Tina Marshall, a thrilling drama of the secret service.

An inventor is warned by the secret service that spies are attempting to steal his formula for a secret and powerful explosive. To guard against this the inventor locks the formula up in his vibro-tone safe, the combination of which responds to certain notes struck on a piano, when these notes are struck the safe opening automatically. The formula is stolen and the entire secret service is on the job to catch the criminal. It is a wonderfully great picture, full of thrills, big situations and unexpected turns, and besides the two stars noted above, Joseph Granby has an important role.

Joe Martin is starred in a Victor drama, "A Strange Confession," an adeptly framed drama with a strong heart-touch.

Billie Rhodes and Ray Gallagher are co-stars in a rousing Nestor comedy, "Never Lie to Your Wife," depicting the dire doom which befell one young married man who did.

"The Red Widow" at Royal.

"The Red Widow" a photo-adaptation of the celebrated comedy by Channing Pollock and Rennold Wolf, in which John Barrymore is starred as Cicero Hannibal Butts, is the Famous Players Film Company's current Paramount feature to be presented at the Royal Theatre today.

The comic predicaments in which the distinguished corset salesman finds himself, involving the Russian secret police and innumerable Nihilists, with a marked penchant for bomb throwing, give John Barrymore the best opportunity he has had since becoming a photoplay star of demonstrating beyond all doubt his right to be called the foremost screen comedian today. Chased aloft into the crow's nest of a steamer by visions of Siberia, and elected to kill the Czar by a company of Nihilists to whom he is introduced as the greatest living king killer, Butts dies about three imaginary deaths a minute in his agony of apprehension.

Bombs to the right of him, bombs to the left of him, bombs in his pockets, bombs in his hands, bombs in his hat—bombs everywhere and Barrymore nearly expires of fright as he finds himself elected to finish the Czar, the Nihilists having drawn lots to see to whom the "honor" is to fall and Barrymore being the "lucky" one. It is a great picture, one of the greatest of all Barrymore comedies yet released on the Paramount programme.

"The Bridge of Sighs"—Grand.

Biograph, noted for its unusual photoplay productions, presents the headliner at the Grand today, a great two-reel human interest drama, "The Bridge of Sighs", starring Jack Drumier and Marie Newton in the two leading roles.

"The Bridge of Sighs" is a striking and original dramatic masterpiece, full of the true heart-interest with a plot and theme which is as original and striking as any you have ever witnessed. It tells a tale of hardships, and final happiness accomplished after the "bridge of sighs" had been crossed, the happy land that lay beyond bringing eternal peace to the oppressed ones, and is a drama that you will remember.

Flora Finch and Kate Price, those two inimitable Vitagraph comediennes, are co-stars in a great Vitagraph Broadway comedy feature, "Strictly Neutral," containing a laugh for every inch of film.

Then there is another great comedy, a Lubin starring "Waddy and Arty", those two famous screen comedians, in "His Saw Awakening", full of big laughs. The admission is five cents.

"The Ne'er Do Well."

James S. McQuade, one of America's foremost critics of the screen, in his review of "The Ne'er Do Well", Rex Beach's great ten-reel motion picture triumph coming to the Royal for two days—Friday and Saturday—says, among other things:

"In my opinion after repeated views of the photodramatic production of Rex Beach's great book, the screen version is not only a faithful reproduction of the printed story in all its important essentials, but it has also increased manifold the interest created by the book. In this connection it is scarcely necessary to refer to the great advantage that the visualization of action possesses over the printed page. All these scenes on Panama, so vividly described by Mr. Beach in the printed story have all been brought before our eyes by the camera in a way that actually visualizes this great book to everyone who has read it."

This passionate and throbbing film of Panama—with all its depths of love and soft, tropic beauty, and fiendish jealousy and black intrigue—with the naked passions of men and women bared before you as only Rex Beach can bare them—the football hero ensnared by the dazzling Southern beauty, "Chiquita," and the seductive Edith Cortland, wife of "the other man," makes this great masterpiece the one big screen epic of the year.

HUCKLEBERRY CROP SHORT OPENING PRICES VERY GOOD.

Forest Fires and Frost Result in Reduction to Half Crop.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Magnolia, N. C., May 30.—The huckleberry market opened here yesterday, the price offered being 14 cents per quart. It is said that there will not be over a half crop of huckleberries in this section this year on account of the many forest fires this spring, and in sections where the woods were not burned the berries were very badly damaged by frost early in April. Huckleberries are one of the most profitable crops grown in this section, the income derived from them being about the same as that derived from the cotton crop. The berries grow wild in the woods and don't require any attention until they are ready to pick, which is done mostly by women and children. A child 12 or 15 years old can pick 30 or 35 quarts of berries a day which at the present prices would sell for $4 to $5.

STORM IN ROCKY MOUNT.

Telephone and Telegraph and Lighting Systems Given Trouble.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Rocky Mount, N. C., May 30.—One of the worst electric storms of the season occurred last night when for more than half an hour terrific peels of thunder and sharp lightning played havoc with wire companies in this city. The electric light people were probably the greatest sufferers and on Columbia and Avon streets their service was materially embarrassed by several poles being demolished and the arc circuits torn down. Residences in many parts of the city were in darkness on account of burned transformers, while the fire alarm system was out of commission for several hours. The telephone company suffered damage to a score of its 'phones and linemen from wire companies have been kept busy much of the day repairing the damage.

MR. JAKE HEATH DEAD.

One of the Leading and Most Popular Citizens of Magnolia.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Magnolia, N. C., May 30.—Mr. Jake Heath died last night about 9:30 o'clock. Mr. Heath was about 71 years old and was one of the most prominent men of this section. He was a man of considerable means. He retired from business several years ago and had been living with his daughter, Mrs. Horn, ever since. He leaves two children, Mr. P. J. Heath, agent for the A. C. L. railroad here, and Mrs. J. C. Horn, with whom he lived. In the death of Mr. Heath this community has lost one of its best citizens. He was kind and considerate to everybody and as a consequence was loved by the whole community. The funeral was held this evening about 5 o'clock.

BARNEY HERRING IS IN JAIL

Duplin Man, Former Preacher, Charged With Attempting to Poison His Wife.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Mount Olive, N. C., May 30.—Barney Herring, at one time a Freewill Baptist minister of northern Duplin county, 23 years of age, is in the Duplin county jail at Kenansville, charged with an attempt, made some time during last September, it is alleged, to poison his young wife, Lilly Pate Herring, by giving her an overdose of poisonous medicine.

Shortly after the alleged attempt, fearing prosecution, it is thought, Herring disappeared and had since been scouting about, spending a portion of the intervening time, it is said, in Kinston, Elm City and Rosemary. In some unknown way, however, it seems that Herring would always become aware of the fact that officers desiring to apprehend him had located him and would again disappear. Deputy Sheriff D. G. Rhodes, of this place, who has had the case in hand, finally succeeded a few days ago in locating him in Roanoke Rapids, N. C., and had him taken into custody by officers there, where he went for him, returning with him here, taking him to a nearby Duplin justice of the peoce for a preliminary hearing, following which he was bound over to Superior court, and in default of bond was placed in jail.

In the meantime, however, Augustus Pate, his father-in-law, has appeared before a grand jury, testifying against him, and a true bill has been returned against him. His case will probably be heard at the next term of Duplin Superior court.

Page Making Good.

U. S. Page, the newly elected chief of police here, who made for himself a splendid record as police officer at LaGrange, N. C., has, since assuming his duties here about the first of May, maintained his reputation as a most capable officer remarkably well, going after violators of the law without partiality and giving delinquent tax payers to understand that their delinquency cannot longer be tolerated, and has already collected hundreds of dollars of taxes one and two years past due.

Warsaw, N. C., May 30.—Mr. John Fonveille will leave fo rWashington this week to stand the physical examination for entrance to West Point. Owing to Mr. Fonveille's fine record as a steudent, and thre recommendation of his professors at the University, he was not required to stand the mental examination.

CALOMEL IS MERCURY! IT SICKENS! ACTS ON LIVER LIKE DYNAMITE

"Dodson's Liver Tone" Starts Your Liver Better Than Calomel and Doesn't Salivate or Make You Sick.

Listen to me! Take no more sickening, salivating calomel when bilious or constipated. Don't lose a day's work!

Calomel is mercury or quicksilver which causes necrosis of the bones. Calomel, when it comes into contact with sour bile crashes into it, breaking it up. This is when you feel that awful nausea and cramping. If you are sluggish and "all knocked out," if your liver is torpid and bowels constipated or you have headache, dizziness, coated tongue, if breath is bad or stomach sour just take a spoonful of harmless Dodson's Liver Tone on my guarantee.

Here's my guarantee—Go to any drug store and get a 50 cent bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone. Take a spoonful tonight and if it doesn't straighten you right up and make you feel fine and vigorous by morning I want you to go back to the store and get your money. Dodson's Liver Tone is destroying the sale of calomel because it is real liver medicine; entirely vegetable, therefore it can not salivate or make you sick.

I guarantee that one spoonful of Dodson's Liver Tone will put your sluggish liver to work and clean your bowels of that sour bile and constipated waste which is clogging your system and making you feel miserable. I guarantee that a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone will keep your entire family feeling fine for months. Give it to your children. It is harmless; doesn't gripe and they like its pleasant taste.

ADMISSION 25 CENTS

STATE CHARTERS NEW INSURANCE COMPANY

Hundred Thousand Dollar Corporation at Bolivia Also

Governor Craig Goes to Annapolis. Daughtridge's Manager's Claim 71 Counties With Majority of 24,800 Votes.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., May 30.—The State chartered a new insurance company today for Durham, the name being the Home Security & Life Company, and the capital $50,000, all subscribed by J. Sprunt Hill, A. M. and J. C. Meize, J. C. Worth and others. The company will do a general life, health and accident insurance. The corporation has the "O. K." of the State Department of Insurance.

Another charter is for the Calabash Hunt Club (Inc.), of Bolivia, capital $100,000 authorized and $3,000 subscribed for operating saw mills, canning factories and other enterprises along with general real estate development. The incorporators are C. L. Cotton, W. H. Heffner and others.

Dr. Charles Lee Smith was commissioned today to succeed himself as a member of the State Library Commission, on which he has served since the commission was created some years ago.

There was issued to Dr. S. Westry Battle, of Asheville, today a special commission for him to represent Governor Craig at the great Allied Bazaar to be in progress next week in New York City when it is expected that around one million dollars will be raised for the Belgian relief fund.

Governor Craig Absent.

Governor Craig left this afternoon for Morganton to deliver an address in connection with the closing exercises of the State School for the Deaf, after which he will proceed to Annapolis, where he and Mrs. Craig will attend the Naval Academy commencement, their son, Cariyle, being one of the graduates.

Secretary McAdoo, of the United States Treasury, accompanied by Mrs. McAdoo, passed through Raleigh today on their way to Chapel Hill for Mr. McAdoo to deliver the commencement address. He will return tomorrow and be a special guest of the chamber of commerce for a dinner. At the same time Mrs. McAdoo and Mrs. Josephus Daniels will be guests at a dinner by Col. and Mrs. Benehan Cameron.

Daughtridge Managers' Claims.

James E. Carraway and Paul R. Capelle, managers of the Daughtridge campaign, today gave out the following:

"The last stage of this interesting contest finds the Daughtridge wave sweeping all before it, and fully confirming the expectations we announced two months ago, when it became apparent to observing people that the voters were fast coming to the support of the Edgecombe county man. We can now with good reason, and based on conservative reports of the actual conditions throughout the State, make a definite forecast of the result on June 3rd. The final returns may differ slightly in a few instances but our figures will prove substantially correct. We ask those who are interested to preserve this forecast and compare it with the official returns.

"Governor Daughtridge will certainly carry 71 counties at least and will have a majority in the State of not less than 24,000. The counties will be distributed as follows:

"First District—10 out of 14 counties. Majority in district, 1,500.

"Second District—Seven out of eight counties. Majority in district, 3,500.

"Third District—Seven out of nine counties. Majority in district 2,000.

"Fourth District—Four out of six counties. Majority in district, 2,500.

"Fifth District—Eight out of eleven counties. Majority in district, 2,000.

"Sixth District—Six out of seven counties. Majority in district, 5,000.

"Seventh District—Seven out of 13 counties. Majority in district, 1,200.

"Eighth District—Five out of nine counties. Majority in district, 1,100.

"Ninth District—Seven out of ten counties. Majority in district, 3,000.

"Tenth District—10 out of 13 counties. Majority in district, 3,000.

"Total number of counties—71; Majority in State, 24,800."

WILSON METHODISTS BUY LOT

May Erect $15,000 Sunday School Building on the Opera House Site

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Wilson, N. C., May 30.—Wilson Methodists have taken an advance step. They have decided to purchase the property directly across the street from the church—the present site of the frame building used as an opera house. The property belongs to the estate of S. A. Woodward and as soon as it was placed on the market the officials of the church secured an option. The church at a congregational meeting ordered the purchase.

There is a movement on foot for the erection of a Sunday school building on the lot and there is considerable interest in the proposition which will mean the expenditure of close to $15,000 in the building. This play has not yet been determined upon but is bein gseriously considered.

Pythian Grand Chancellor Makes Address in Christian Church

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Newbern, N. C., May 30.—Mr. J. G. Baird, grond chancellor of the Knights of Pythias of North Carolina, spent yesterday in New Bern and last night made a most interesting address at the Christian church on Hancock street.

Mr. Baird spoke, in the main, to the Pythians, but there were a large number of citizens present who were not members of this lodge an dthe address was of almost as much interest to them as to the Pythians. Mr. Baird left this morning for his home at Charlotte.

GODWIN AGAINST LABOR

The Following Editorial Appeared in the Railway Carmen's Journal of May 1916

SIXTY-SEVEN VOTED TO "SOAK" LABOR

March 14, 1916, is a day which the working people of the United States should fix in their memories. On that day sixty-seven reactionary politicians in the House of Representatives voted to lengthen the working day from seven hours to eight for 30,000 government civil employes in Washington.

Representative William P. Borland, of Missouri is the one who conceived this reactionary labor policy and tried to put it in operation by an amendment to the legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill, embodying his labor ideas. Owing to sundry points of order raised against it, the amendment passed through three parliamentary stages. In its final form the House took a yea and nay vote on the proposition.

"Here is the amendment as given in the Congressional Record:

"Mr. Borland moves to re-commit the bill to the Committee on Appropriations with instructions to report the same back forthwith with the following amendment:

"On page 150 add as a new paragraph the following:

"No part of any amount herein appropriated shall be used to pay salaries or for personal services in any executive department of the government of the city of Washington which does not, subject to the provisions and exceptions of section 7 of the legislative, executive and judicial act, approved March 15, 1898, require eight hours of labor each day."

The effect of this amendment would have been to increase from seven to eight hours the working day for over 30,000 government clerks in Washington, with no increase in wages or salaries.

Despite the fact that the above amendment was defeated by large majorities on three separate votes, after the chair had ruled that the motion to make it a "rider" to an appropriation bill was out of order, Borland introduced a resolution which provided for a 10 per cent reduction of the number of clerks and that hours be increased to equalize the loss of service to the government which was also defeated. A motion to re-commit this resolution was also lost.

Here is the list of the immortal sixty-seven representatives, arranged by states, who voted for this reactionary labor policy:

Georgia—Bell, Thomas M.; Crisp, Charles R.; Lee, Gordon; Park, Frank; Tribble, Samuel J.; Vinson, Carl; Walker, J. Randall.

Iowa—Steele, Thomas J.

Indiana—Cox, William E.; Moores, Merrill.

Kansas—Connelly, John R.; Doolittle, Dudley; Helvering, Guy T.; Shouse, Jouett.

Kentucky—Barkley, Alben W.; Fields, William J.; Helm, Harvey; Johnson, Ben; Kincheloe, David H.; Rouse, Arthur B.; Thomas, Robert Y.

Massachusetts—Gardner, Augustus P.; Gillett, Frederick H.

Michigan—McLaughlin, James C.; Mapes, Carl E.

Missouri—Booher, Charles F.; Borland, William P.; Dickinson, Clement C.; Hensley, Walter L.; Rucker, William W.

Mississippi—Collier, James W.; Quin, Percy E.; Sisson, Thomas U.; Stephens, Hubert D.

Nebraska—Kinkaid, Moses P.; Sloan, Charles H.

North Dakota—Norton, Patrick D.

Ohio—Gordon, William.

Oklahoma—Carter, Charles D.; Davenport, James S.; Hastings, William W.; Murray, William H.; Thompson, Joseph B.

Tennessee—Burns, Joseph W.; Garrett, Finis J.; Houston, William C.; Hull, Cordell; Sims, Thetus W.

Virginia—Saunders, Edward W.

Wisconsin—Stafford, William H.

This attempt to lengthen the clerks' work day was strenuously opposed by the American Federation of Labor. President Gompers, however, agreed that hours should be equalized, but insisted that the work day of mechanics and other workers who now work eight hours and longer should be shortened instead of the clerks' hours lengthened.

The only commendable feature about this entire agitation is the fact that it resulted in the formation of a Federal Civil Service Employes' Union chartered by the American Federation of Labor, which hundreds of clerks are joining.

JUDGE W. P. STACY.

Following is a copy of a letter being mailed unsolicited by a prominent Wilmington business man to correspondents in adjoining counties:

Wilmington, N. C., May 30, 1916.

Dear Sir:

An able and impartial Superior Court bench is of such great importance to the people that I am taking the liberty to write you in behalf of Judge W. P. Stacy, and to invite your thoughtful consideration of the following:

First: A good judge must be possessed of a judicial temperament, good habits, a clean record, a capacity for labor, and a consuming desire for justice. In all of these respects and particulars Judge Stacy meets the requirements in an exceptionally satisfactory way, and it would not be possible to supply his place on the bench by a man better qualified. Judge Stacy is now the presiding judge. If his work has been satisfactory he is entitled to a re-nomination, and the burden is upon those who advocate a change to prove that a change is necessary. The judgeship is not an office with which to pay political debts, and should be above the political claims of any man.

Second: It is contended by some that the bar should have the sole voice in choosing a judge. Such a position ignores entirely the rights of the farmers and the merchants, and since the farmers and merchants are the principal ones whose property rights are passed on by the courts, it is perfectly clear that they have a right to a voice in the selection of a judge. All fair-minded lawyers admit this.

Third: In the nature of the case Judge Stacy, who is now riding the circuit, cannot give personal attention to his candidacy, even though the proprieties of his position enabled him to do so, which, of course, they do not. A faithful judge is therefore in the hands of his friends, and must depend upon his record and the appreciation on the part of the public of valuable service for support.

One who is to judge should be free from partisanship, and in the nature of the case a candidate for judge should not make a personal canvass. To do so makes it absolutely certain that likes and dislikes will be formed, so that if such a candidate were elevated to the bench he would not be free from unconscious favors to some others. In a word, a judge cannot be impartial if his political activities cause him to form personal likes and dislikes.

Fourth: Judge Stacy's dispatch of the public business makes his administration of justice economical, thereby saving expense to the tax-payers. He is a good business man as well as a good lawyer, and this combination makes him an ideal judge as respects both impartial judgment and economy of administration.

Yours very truly,
(Advertisement.)

FOR RECORDER

JOHN J. FURLONG

The many friends of Mr. Jno. J. Furlong respectfully present him to the voters of New Hanover County for the office of Recorder, trusting that he will receive a generous support at the approaching Primary Election.

In asking for the support of the voters of this county, we feel that we can safely refer to the record heretofore made by Mr. Furlong in this office. We are sure that should he be elected to this responsible position he will temper the justice of the law with mercy to offenders, and yet so administer the duties of the Court as to preserve the peace and dignity of the community, and afford full protection to all citizens.

We Are Very Much Interested in the Candidacy of

Hon. N. A. SINCLAIR
of Fayetteville

For the Important Office of Attorney General of N. Carolina

We have known Mr. Sinclair for many years, and have personal knowledge of his ability as a lawyer and fitness for the position in question.

He is, in our opinion, a gentleman of unusual intellectual attainments, and a lawyer of exceptional ability.

His long and successful career as Solicitor of his District has given him a very practical insight concerning the duties which will be incumbent upon him in the office of Attorney General.

CANDIDATE FOR

COMMISSIONER OF AGRICULTURE

New York World
Washington Bureau

Washington, D. C., May 27th, 1916.

My dear Mr. McKinnon:—

I wish I were there to help you. North Carolina needs just the sort of live wire you would be in the office of Commissioner of Agriculture.

I think you had more to do with starting the truckers off right in your section of the state than any other man. Your efforts have brought money and success to many other men.

The position of Commissioner of Agriculture is the most important one of the state offices, in my opinion. If North Carolina ever makes most of her soil, climate and location, she can come pretty close to feeding the East and North. I believe you will come nearer bringing her up to her own than any other farmer I know.

If there is anything in this letter you wish to use, as coming from me, do so.

With best wishes for you and yours, I am,

Your friend and supporter,

H. E. C. BRYANT.

NOTICE

It is our pleasure to endorse for the office of County Commissioner of New Hanover County Mr. Addison Hewlett, of Masonboro Township.

Mr. Hewlett is a successful farmer and a good business man: intelligent, honest, conservative, and respected in his community. The affairs of the County should be managed by men of his character.

Respectfully,
M. S. WILLARD,
W. L. PARSLEY,
Wilmington, N. C.

FOR SOLICITOR

To the Democratic Voters:—

I herewith place my name before you as a candidate for the office of Solicitor of New Hanover County. If elected by our citizens to the important office of Solicitor, I shall deem it an expression of public confidence, an honor to me and a public trust, and it will be my constant aim to faithfully discharge the duties thereby imposed, in full keeping with the spirit and the letter of the law. In asking for your support, I am placing my record as a public official before you for close scrutiny and impartial investigation. What a man has done is the best evidence of what he may be expected hereafter to do. My record as police commissioner is the fullest assurance that I stand for the firm and fullest administration of the criminal law. Under no circumstances, if elected, will I unduly favor a friend or persecute an enemy. I have no ties, alliances or associations that will or can in any manner influence me in the discharge of a public trust and duty. I ask especially for the support of those citizens who believe in the fair, just, equal and firm administration of our criminal laws. W. F. JONES.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

Holiday Feeling in the Market All Day—Trading Light

New Orleans, May 30.—There was a holiday feeling in the cotton market all day today. Trading was light and prices barely moved. The fact that the Northern market closed, together with several spot markets, the bureau report on Thursday and the double holidays here on the week, end all served to restrict fresh business.

In the early trading prices advanced 3 to 5 points on good cables and reports of storm damage in the North central portions of the belt. The market then gradually fell off until late in the day. July stood two points under yesterday's last quotations. Closing prices were at the lowest levels of the day, the list standing unchanged to two points down compared with yesterday's last prices.

The market was given a steady tone by reports of a somewhat better spot demand, limited offerings of actual cotton and the hardening views regarding values held by many spot owners.

Closing bid July 12.65; October 12.72; December 12.35; January, 12.96; March, 13.09.

Spot cotton steady, unchanged. sales on the spot 935; to arrive, 180; middling, 12.63.

LIVERPOOL COTTON MARKET.

Liverpool, May 30. — Cotton: Spot, steady; good middling, 8.70; middling, 8.54; low middling, 8.34. Sales, 10,000, including 1,000 for speculation and export. EPSTEIN CASE CONTINUED

Goldsboro Young Man Indicted For Murder of Leonard Edwards

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Goldsboro, N. C., May 30.—The grand jury yesterday afternoon presented to Judge C. C. Lyon, in Superior Court, which convened Monday, a true bill for murder against Hyman Epstein, who on the night of Wednesday, April 26, shot and killed Leonard Edwards in front of the latter's home, the ball entering his heart.

When arraigned Epstein pleaded "not guilty" and his counsel immediately made petition to Judge Lyon for a continuance of the case until the August term of court, urging that the time had been too brief for them to get their evidence in hand, that some material witnesses—eye witnesses to the tragedy—were yet to be located, but being diligently sought after, that the public mind, wrought up over the affair, had not had sufficient cooling time, and that the issue to the defendant was such that justice alike to him and to the public would best be served by continuing the case until the August term of court.

This plea was vigorously combatted by the State's counsel, but Judge Lyon after hearing argument pro and con took the matter under advisement and just before court adjourned for the evening he rendered his decision granting the continuance.

Judge Daniels Delivers Unusual Charge in Fayetteville.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Fayetteville, N. C., May 30.—In an able and altogether unusual charge to the grand jury at the opening of Superior Court here yesterday which dealt particularly with the three evils of drinking, gambling and the so-called segregated district, Judge F. A. Daniels charged the grand jurors to find if the city is encouraging the last named vice by furnishing electric lights and water from the municipal system; to find what citizens were renting houses for such purposes and whether telephone service were being furnished the inmates of the district. The judge also referred sharply to the man who makes money by selling supplies to these people. Speaking of the principles of segregation, the judge advised its advocate to try segregating in his own character any little vice he might happen to have.

Referring to the chemical whiskey being shipped into North Carolina, Judge Daniels said: "I used to think of Virginia as the Mother of Presidents, but now I sometimes think of her as the compounder of the meanest of poisons."

The grand jury's report will be awaited with interest.

YOUNG BROTHERS DROWNED.

Lads of 13 and 17 Lose Their Lives in Neuse River.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Kinston, N. C., May 30. — When Roy Spence, 17, and Burrell Spence, 13, sons of Maley Spence, a Neuse township planter, were drowned in Neuse river Sunday afternoon about 2:30 o'clock, Roy Spence died in a heroic effort to save the smaller victim, according to a story told by the father here today. The bodies were recovered an hour or two later. Coroner Eugene Wood visited the place and announced that an inquest was not necessary.

According to the father's story, the two boys, together with another brother, too small uncles and a sixth lad, left his home for the river, to swim. They went into the stream at a remote point some miles from here. Burrell Spence alone remained in the water when he struck a deep place. He could swim little or none, and was drowning when Roy Spence plunged overboard and swam to his aid. The smaller boy clutched the larger's leg and carried him down with him. The two drowned while the boys on the bank, unable to swim, looked on helpless to assist them.

The double funeral of the brothers was held at a remote country church yesterday afternoon. Rev. C. W. Blanchard, of this city, conducted it.

ON TRIAL FOR TREASON WITH SIR ROGER CASEMENT.

Daniel Julian Beverley.

Franz Hugo Krebs, an American lawyer, who has just arrived from Berlin, brought with him the accompanying picture of Daniel Julian Beverley, in a German sergeant's uniform, whose name, he says, is not Bailey, as reports of the trial of Sir Roger Casement give it, but who is the man on trial for high treason with Sir Roger in London.

He was born in Dublin and educated in that city at St. Vincent's; was sergeant scout instructor in the Seventy-third Chatham Fusiliers (Canadian), in 1913. In 1904 he was in the Irish Rifles. In all he served nine years, six years in foreign service and three years at home.

Beverley, Mr. Krebs said, is a landscape artist and was called as a reservist at the beginning of the war. He was in several battles, including the battle of Mons, and was captured at St. Quientain.

A believer in action in Ireland, and not a follower of Redmond, Beverley, with Lieutenant Robert Monlieth, both of the Irish brigade stationed at Zossen, accompanied Sir Roger Casement when he left Berlin on April 11.

Casement did not want either man to go with him, Krebs said, but they insisted, despite the danger of facing a noose or a firing squad, as they were unwilling for him to go alone.

DAVIDSON COMMENCENENT

Society Address Delivered by W. F. Carter—Many Visitors on College Campus.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Davidson, N. C., May 30.—The regular programme that has been given by the Davidson gym team was greatly missed yesterday. The concert given by the orchestra and glee club well made up for the disappointment, for the members of these clubs were equal to the occasion and gave a very enjoyable entertainment. The most popular number that was rendered was a solo by J. L. Fowle, accompanied by J. H. Townsend. Fowle has always been the favorite among the boys with his clear tenor voice. A surprise and a delightful one to the audience, was a violin solo that was very ably and entertainingly rendered by Miss Jean Dickson Vardell, of Red Springs. Miss Vardell was visiting her aunt, Mrs. W. J. Martin, and her part on the programme was thoroughly enjoyed by all present.

Last night Hon. W. F. Carter, of Mt. Airy, N. C., delivered the annual address to the literary societies. His address was an appeal to the men in college to know themselves mentally, physically and spiritually. It was a splendid address and was enjoyed and appreciated by an attentive audience of the societies and friends.

After this part of the programme had been rendered the members of each society assembled in their respective places and the graduating exercises took place. In the Philanthropic society there were 17 young men awarded diplomas for faithful work during the past four years. E. J. McIntire, of Wilmington, was to receive one, but was absent when they were presented. N. P. Farrior, well known to many in Wilmington, also received a diploma.

One of the pleasing sights that greet the eye of the thirsty person is the beautiful polished marble sanitary drinking fountain which is the gift of the class of '16. Inscribed on the base of this fountain is, "Labora ut vincas." Under this is the class number, "1916". This gift has not been formally presented, yet it has been set up and is in use at present.

Among the arrivals here today are Mr. W. H. Sprunt, Rev. Alex. Sprunt, of Charleston; Rev. W. M. Shaw, and L. Glascow Hicks. The campus is alive with visitors.

PROF. W. C. RIDDICK TO HEAD A. & M. COLLEGE

graduates. K. Sloan, valedictorian, talked fluently of "Engineering on the Farm;" S. G. Crater, of "Financing the American Farmer;" R. V. Davis of "Vocational Education," and K. L. Greenfield, of "Pan-American Peace."

The announcement of honors was made by Dr. Hill, retiring president. The four years' scholarship honors among the graduating class went to J. V. Champion, S. G. Crater, K. L. Greenfield, R. W. Hamilton, Jr., R. H. Hodges, H. Rankin, R. M. Reiche and P. E. Sneed.

The graduates include thirty in agriculture, three in chemistry, nineteen in civil engineering, twenty in electrical engineering, eleven in mechanical engineering, seven in textile industry.

Dr. Hill Submits Report.

In connection with the meeting of the board of trustees, Dr. Hill, the retiring president, submitted a report which made a most creditable showing of the progress of the institution during his administration as president — eight years. They included the expenditure of $341,990 for new buildings. This, he said, was more than was expended during the whole previous life of the college. The State appropriation to the college has increased from $32,000 to $85,000 per year. The Nelson fund from the Federal government has increased from $3,350 to $16,750.

Dr. Hill recounted the benefit the college and the State is receiving from the Smith-Lever National fund for extension and demonstration work and of the co-operation that is maintained between the college, and the State and the National departments of agriculture for extension and demonstration work on the farms and in the farm homes. The enrollment has increased from 446 to 860. The increase of agricultural students has increased from 115 to 358. The increase in faculty has been from 42 to 62.

DECOYS FOR ZEPPELINS

Bill Boards Rigged Up And Lighted To Look Like Factories

(From the Popular Science Monthly.)

I am credibly informed that what might be called "divisionary" protective measures have been employed with considerable success. These consist of various ingenious devices calculated to draw the fire of the Zeppelins away from the points where they could do the most harm. The idea is said to have originated in the mind of a Norfolw farmer after a pile of chaff which he had been buring on the night of a raid was made the target of several well-placed Zeppelin bombs.

"The Zepps thought my fire was the blats of the —— mills," he told an air service officer. "Why not have some ready to fool 'em the next time they come?"

Since factories and barracks were the main objects of attack, why not provide some that could be found without difficulty and the destruction of which would be of small moment. The first experiment was made by cutting window holes in a row of billboards along a railway and illuminating each orifice with a carbide lamp. When these came in for attention from the raiders, the present plan of using "stage scenery" factories and barracks as Zeppelin decoys was outlined.

These decoys consist simply of sections of imitation walls, pierced with windows, which, by means of guys and props, can be made to represent the side or sky-lighted roofs of a factory or barracks. Where practicable thee illumination is furnished by running a cable from the nearest electric transmission line, and where this is too troublesome or expensive carbide or kerosene lamps are mployd. Teh sections hook or clamp together and are made small enough to allow of a stack of them being carried on one of the big war motor trucks.

MAJOR LITTLE WILL SPEAK

Congressional Candidate to Address Voters Here Tonight—All Candidates Are Busy.

Major Joseph W. Little, candidate for Congress from the Sixth District, will speak to the voters of the Fifth Ward tonight at 8 o'clock at Fifth and Castle streets, and tomorrow night at 8:15 o'clock he will address a gathering of voters at Front and Market streets. He spoke Monday night to a large crowd of voters at White Oak in Bladen county. This afternoon he has a speaking engagement at Phoenix in Brunswick county.

As the day for the primary approaches near, all the candidates for local offices are putting in full time in pushing their claims ior public office while their friends are putting forth every effort. It is expected that there will be an unusually large vote Saturday. While each candidate expresses confidence over the final outcome, no man is making any predictions with definite certainty regarding any office for which there is more than one contestant.

While interest is naturally centered more pointedly upon the congressional race, the interest in the other races is no less keen. The friends of Addison G. Ricaud, Esq., who is opposing Judge W. P. Stacy for the nomination for judge from this district, are working strenuously for their candidate while the friends of the latter are letting no grass grow under their feet.

Congressman Godwin after spending Monday in Wilmington left yesterday for Harnett county. He will not return before the primary but will continue his campaign in other parts of the district.

E. F. Young, Esq., of Dunn, arrived in the city last night in the interest of his congressional candidacy.

Major Little has been busy for the last several weeks in other parts of the district, but returns today to continue his campaign at nome. It is likely that all the congressional candidates will devote the last days of the campaign in home counties, realizing the importance of polling a full vote among their home supporters.

AMERICA MUST COME FIRST IN THE MINDS OF ALL HER CITIZENS

the healing processes of peace all men are united in a common enterprise of liberty and of peace.

An Invincible Spirit.

"And yet, ladies and gentlemen, the very object for which we are met together is to renew in our hearts the spirit that made these things possible. The Union was saved by the processes of the Civil War. That was a crisis which could be handled, it seems, in no other way, but I need not tell you that the peculiarity of this singular and beloved country is that its task, its human task, is apparently never finished; that it is always making and to be made. And there is at present upon us a crisis which seems to threaten to be a new crisis of division. We know that the war which is to ensue will be a war of spirits and not of arms. We know that the spirit of America is invincible and that no man can abate its power, but we know that that spirit must upon occasion be asserted, and that this is one of the occasions.

"America is made up out of all the nations of the world. Look at the rosters of the Civil War. You will see names there drawn from almost every European stock. Not recently, but from the first, America has drawn her blood and her impulse from all the sources of energy that spring at the fountains of every race and because she is thus compounded out of the peoples of the world her problem is largely a problem of union all the time, a problem of compounding out of many elements a single triumphant force.

Should Love Land of Birth.

"The war in Europe has done a very natural thing in America. It has stirred the memories of men drawn from many of the belligerent stocks. It has renewed in them a national feeling which had grown faint under the soothing influence of peace, but which now flares up when it looks as if nation had challenged nation to a final reckoning, and they remember the nations from which they were sprung and know that they are in this life and death grapple. It is not singular, my fellow citizens, that this should have occurred, and up to a certain point it is not just that we should criticise it.

"We have no criticism for men who love the places of their birth and the sources of their origin. We don't wish men to forget their mothers and their fathers, their forbears running back through long laborious generations which have taken part in the building up of the strength and spirit of other nations. No man quarrels with that. From such springs of sentiment we all draw some of the handsomest inspirations of our lives. But all that we do criticise is that in some instances—they are not very numerous—but in some instances men have allowed this old ardor of another nationality to overthrow their ardor for the nationality to which they have given their new and voluntary allegiance.

"And so the United States has again to work out by spiritual process a new Union, when men shall not think of what divides them, but shall recall what unites them, when men shall not allow old loves to take the place of present allegiances; when men must, on the contrary, translate that very ardor of love of the country of their birth into the ardor of love for the country of their adoption and the principles which it represents. I have no harshness in my heart even for the extremists in this thing which I have been trying in moderate words to describe, but I summon them, and I summon them very solemnly, not to set their purpose against the purpose of America. America must come first in every purpose we entertain and every man must count upon being cast out of our confidence, cast out even of our tolerance, who does not submit to that great ruling principle.

Fight Against Any Aggression.

"But what are the purposes of America? Do you not see that there is another significance in the fact that we are made up out of all the peoples of the world? The significance of that fact is that we are not going to vote our nationality to the same mistaken aggressive purposes that some other nationalities have been devoted to; that because we are made up and consciously made up, out of all the great family of mankind, we are champions of the rights of mankind. We are not only ready to co-operate, but we are ready to fight against any aggression, whether from within or without. But we must guard ourselves against the sort of aggression which would be unworthy of America. We are ready to fight for our rights when those rights are coincident with the right of man and humanity. It was to set those rights up, to vindicate them, to offer a home to every man who believed in them, that America was created and her government set up. We have kept our doors open because we did not think we in conscience could close them against men who wanted to join their forces with ours in vindicating the claim of mankind to liberty and justice.

Wants No Selfish Advantage.

"America does not want any additional territory. She does not want any selfish advantage over any other nation in the world, but she does wish every nation in the world to understand what she stands for and to respect what she does stand for, and I cannot conceive of any man of any blood or origin failing to feel an enthusiasm for the things that America stands for or failing to see that they are indefinitely elevated above any purpose of aggression or selfish advantage.

"I said the other evening in another place that one of the principles which America held dear was that small and weak States had as much right to their sovereignty and independence as large and strong States. She believes that because strength and weakness have nothing to do with her principles. Her principles are for the rights and liberties of mankind, and this is the haven which we have offered to those who believe that sublime and sacred creed of humanity. And I also said that I believed that the people of the United States were ready to become partners in any alliance of the nations that would guarantee public right above selfish aggression.

"Some of the public prints have reminded me, as if I needed to be reminded, of what General Washington warned us against. He warned us against entangling alliances. I shall never consent to an entangling alliance, bot would gladly assent to a disentangleing alliance, an alliance which would disentangle the people of the world from those combinations in which they seek their own separate and private interests, and unite the people of the world to preserve the peace of the world upon a basis of common right and justice. There is liberty there, not limitation. There is freedom, not entanglement. There is achievement of the highest things for which the United States has declared its principle.

Process of Preparation

"We have been engaged recently, my fellow citizens, discussing the processes of preparation. I have been trying to explain to you what We are getting prepared for, and I want to point out to you the only process of preparation which is possible for the United States. It is possible for the United States to get ready only if the men of suitable age and strength will volunteer to get ready. I heard the president of the United States Chamber of Commerce report the other evening on a referendum to 750 of the chambers of commerce of the United States upon the question of preparedness and he reported that 99 per cefft. of them had voted in favor of preparedness. Very well now, we are going to apply the acid test to those gentlemen and the acid test is this:

"Will they give the young men in their employment freedom to volunteer for this thing? I wish the referendum had included that, because that is of the essence of the matter.

Business Men to Answer

"It is all very well to say that somebody else was prepared but are the business men of this country ready themselves to lend a hand and sacrifice an interest in order that we may get ready? We shall have a nanswer to that question in the next few months. A bill is lying upon my table now ready? We shall have an answer to over with that interrogation point, and I want all the business men of the country to see that interrogation point staring them in the face. I have heard a great many people talk about universal training—universal voluntary training, with all my heart, if you wish it, but America does no wish anything but the compulsion of the spirit of America. I for my part don't entertain any serious doubt of the answer to these questions, because I suppose there is no place in the world where the compulsion of public opinion is more imperative than it is in the United States. You know yourself how you behave when you think nobody is watching. And now all the people of the United States are watching each other. There was never such a blazing spot light upon the conduct and principles of every American as each one of us now walks and blinks in it. And as this spot light sweeps its relentless rays across every square mile of territory of the United States, I know a great many men even when they do not want to are going to stand up and say 'Here!' Because America is roused, roused to a self-consciousness and a national self-consciousness such as she has not had in a generation. And this spirit is going out conquering and to conquer until it may be in the providence of God, a new light is lifted up in America which shall throw the rays of liberty and justice far abroad upon every sea and even upon the lands which now wallow in darkness and refuse to see the light."

NEWPORT NEWS HONORS THE MEMORY OF NATION'S DEAD

Newport News, Va., May 30.—Under the anspices of the local D. A. R. posts and residents of the National Soldiers' Home at Hampton, soldiers' graves in the cemeteries were decorated today and flowers were strewn on the waters of Hampton Roads in memory of those who died at sea. Corporal James Turner, of Washington, D. C., was the principal speaker at a Memorial Day programme in one of the theatres here this afternoon.

GRAVES OF UNION SOLDIERS IN RALEIGH ARE DECORATED

Raleigh, N. C., May 30.—Although there was no fixed Memorial Day programme here today, Confederate veterans in keeping with the custom of former years, placed flowers and flags on the graves of Union soldiers in this vicinity.

VETERANS AND OTHERS IN A MEMORIAL DAY PARADE

Chattanooga, Tenn., May 30.—Union and Confederate veterans, followed by members o fthe regular army and the Boy Scouts, marched in a Memorial Day parade here this afternoon.

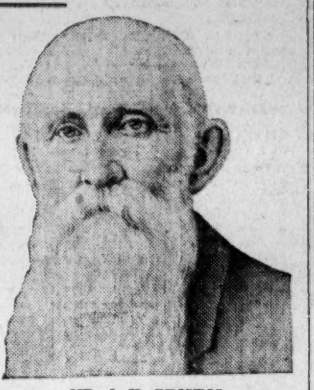
PERSONAL PARAGRAPHS.

—Mr. LeRoy Cruser, of Norfolk, Va., arrived in the city yesterday to take charge of the local office of Charles Syer & Co., sugar brokers, of Norfolk, Va., in the place of his brother, Mr. C. Cruser, who has been transferred to the home office.

—Among the North Carolina arrivals at the Orton yesterday were: W. L. Hill, Raleigh; J. H. Williams and C. D. Ferrell, Wilson; F. D. Thomas, Burgaw; A. M. McLean, Lillington; J. B. Schulken, Esq., Whiteville; D. W. Monroe, Chadbourn; J. P. Council, Wananish; T. Formyduval, Whiteville; P. R. Smith, Elizabethtown; R. H. Breese, Raleigh; T. L. Gibson, Troy; J. P. Wiggins, Maxton; E. J. Hill, Warsaw; R. E. L. Brown and Alfred Patterson, Chadbourn.

Healthy Old Age Brings Happiness

Simple Remedy Promotes Health by Overcoming Tendency to Constipation.



MR. J. H. BRISTOL.

Advancing years impair the action of the vital organs. Old age should be the period of greatest happiness, but good health is necessary. Constipation should not be tolerated—it is often the direct cause of ill health.

Headache, belching, biliousness, bloat, drowsiness after eating and other symptoms of constipation can be readily relieved by the use of a simple laxative compound sold in drug stores under the name of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. Mr. J. H. Bristol, 1412 Geddes Ave., Ann Arbor, Mich., who is 83 years old, says "Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is the best remedy I ever used for constipation and I always have a bottle of it in the house to use when I feel the need of it; it never disappoints."

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a mild laxative preparation, positive in its effect, acting easily and naturally, without griping or other pain or discomfort. For over a quarter of a century it has been the standard household remedy in thousands of homes. Druggists everywhere sell it for fifty cents a bottle. A trial bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin can be obtained, free of charge, by writing to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 454 Washington St., Monticello, Illinois.

Real Estate Transfers.

The following deeds were filed for record yesterday: S. T. Weaver and wife to the Wilmington Hosiery Mills, for $100 and other considerations, lot on east side of Fourth street, 52 feet north of Meares, 35x150 feet in size; W. T. Weaver and wife to Wilmington Hosiery Mills, for $100 and other considerations, lot on north side of Meares street, 117 feet east of Fourth, 33x52 feet in size; George Bannerman and wife to John T. Riley and Henry C. Riley, for $10 and other considerations, lot at Love Grove.

TO THE VOTERS.

Besides that utility of the Recorder's Court, which is evident to all, there are, as a result of the proper operation of the Court, a great many advantages which will directly benefit the individual voter together with the entire public, and which might be overlooked by some who have not made a specific study of the matter.

Among those advantages are:

First—There should be a saving to the tax payers, as a result of its minimizing both the criminal and civil work of our Superior Court.

Second—The administration of this Court should be in answer to and in harmony with that demand now being made by every citizen, and especially by the commercial world, that there shall be a more speedy conclusion of all matters litigated. Such a public demand is not only just, but is an absolute essential to our advanced commercialism. That system will result in a very considerable advantage to every one, in that it will increase the local circulation of money which otherwise remains tied up in law suits.

If elected Recorder, it will be my constant aim, to see that these advantages to the public are completely and materially realized.

In conclusion, I wish to again thank my many friends, including those whom I have not yet had the pleasure of meeting, for their interest in my behalf, and for the assurance of their continued support and influence.

Respectfully yours,
J. FELTON HEAD,
Candidate for Recorder,
New Hanover County.
